World Commodity Markets Go Up On Buying Demands

BULL FEVER SPREADS TO ALL NATIONS

Buyers' Panic in Japan is Wild and Silk Markets Closed for Few Weeks

COTTON SHOOTS UP

Wheat Prices Over Entire World Higher — Profit Taking Easily Absorbed

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(UP)—Commodity markets in America and abroad surged upward today in a world wide scramble to buy up raw materials of all kinds.

American and British markets were the scenes of lively trading to the accompaniment of reports that a complete liquidation of war debts and preparations were being worked out by bankers of both countries in a program calling for a general rise in the international price of raw goods.

"Bull fever" spread to South America and the far east. In Yokohama and Kobe, Japan, the silk markets had to be closed because of a buyers' panic that resulted from a wild rush to accumulate the commodity in belief that a world-wide recovery in trade was imminent.

American markets were marked by an unprecedented bull rampage in the New York cotton exchange, where prices shot up almost $2 a bale. Waves of buying orders were inspired by sensational improvement in textile markets.

Frantic buying and short covering sent the rubber market at

EGAN TO BE PLACED ON STAND, REPORTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—(UP)—Defense Attorney Vincent Hallinan changed his mind again today and said that Frank J. Egan would testify in his own defense in an attempt to refute the charge that the former public defender and his co-defendant, Albert Innin, were guilty of killing Mrs. Jessie Scott Hughes.

Ever since the trial started, there have been conflicting reports regarding that phase of the trial. There were statements that Egan would testify, that he would not, that it was undecided. Two days ago, Hallinan stated definitely that Egan would not testify, since there was no need of it in the face of the "weak" case built by the state.

Egan demanded that he be permitted to tell his own story, and Hallinan gave in to his request today.

JIMMIE HAZLIP WINS RACE TO CLEVELAND

Boat Collides With Whale And Is Bested

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 29.—(UP)—A 100-foot coast guard boat limped toward Boston for repairs today after it came out second best in an encounter with a whale.

The Wood, a 1000-ton flush deck craft, sighted the whale Saturday night. The mammal, apparently 90 feet long, swam directly toward the Wood, and a head-on collision seemed imminent. Just before the Wood struck it, the whale flopped over on its back and tried to dive under the boat.

The whale struck the vessel with a terrific impact, bending one propeller and damaging a turbine.

Cigar Store Company In Bankruptcy

The petition in bankruptcy was filed as a result of a resolution adopted at a meeting of the directors of the company this morning. A few hours previously a similar petition had been filed on behalf of the Cigar Stores Realty Holdings, Inc., a subsidiary, and chief guarantor of the United.

The United Cigar Stores company operates stores in every city in the United States of more than 10,000 population. Among its assets was listed stock in trade worth $4,409,417; fixtures and furniture worth $1,776,690, and stock securities valued at $1,250,000.

BANK ENGLAND GOVERNOR HERE ON CONFERENCE

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(UP)—Britain's return to the gold standard, complete war debt and reparations liquidation through a $3,500,000,000 loan, and world wide commodity price boosts were believed discussed over the week end by American bankers and Montagu Norman, whose visits always have preceded world shaking financial adjustments.

The governor of the Bank of England, who arrived in this country recently under the name of "Professor Clarence Skinner" to spend a

OVER HALF MILLION DAMAGES IN BLAZE

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Aug. 29.—(UP)—Damage in excess of $500,000 was done by the disastrous fire on Sacramento's river front Sunday morning, according to a check-up completed here today.

The damage was done chiefly to the river freight fleet. A loss of 2400 tons of freighters was reported by the river lines, while eight stern wheelers, two barges and two tug boats were sunk.

Possibility of any loss of life was discounted after a check showed all crews intact.

William P. Dwyer, head of the river lines, in confirming the fact that his company's loss would be approximately $600,000, announced that "operations will continue as heretofore."

DOWNING POINTS OUT THAT BANKERS RUSH TO SUPPORT OF OPPONENT IN FINAL PLEA

CLYDE DOWNING, candidate for State Senator, today pointed out that a four page dodger issued by friends of Sen. Nels Edwards, his opponent, is confirmation of his charge that Edwards is the representative of special interests.

Downing pointed out that the broadside, delivered throughout the county, was sponsored, and presumably paid for by Mr. Edwards' associates whose names sponsored it, namely: A. J. Cruickshank, H. A. Lake, C. C. Chapman, Frank L. Ainsworth, A. J. McFadden and S. C. Hartman, all connected officially with one bank or another in Orange county. There were two or three other names attached.

Downing's statement in full follows:

"In my campaign for the state senate nomination, I mentioned that the incumbent sen-

LIVES OF FIVE ARE LOST WHEN TUNNEL CAVES

LIVERMORE, Calif., Aug. 29.—(UP)—Bodies of four of the five men buried beneath an avalanche of dirt and rocks when a section of the Vallejo-Mocho tunnel of the Hetch-Hetchy project collapsed were found by rescue workers early today.

No hope was held that the fifth man might be found alive.

The five victims of the disaster were identified as C. Kline, Pat Crowley, C. Simonsen, Tom Donnelly and Ray McLendon, all of San Francisco. All were unmarried.

It was believed the men were killed instantly when crushed by the falling tons of rocks and dirt which blocked approximately 15 feet of the tunnel at a spot about 2700 feet from the Mocho entrance.

The cave-in occurred last night midway in the 28 1-2 miles of tunnels which are being bored through the coast range of mountains to bring an improved water supply to San Francisco. At the point of the collapse, the tunnel is far underground with the highest point of the mountains approximately 700 feet overhead.

Sixteen men were working in the shaft, removing timber preparatory to concreting the walls, when the earth began to slide. All but five were able to dash to safety before the passage suddenly was filled by the avalanche of dirt and rocks.

Spurred by the hope the victims might have found safety under the

St. Louis Flier First to Finish Speedy Flight for Bendix Trophy

BULLETIN
FLOYD BENNETT AIRPORT, NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(UP)—Jimmie Hazlip of St. Louis, roaring out of the west in search of a new transcontinental speed record set his tiny Wedell-Williams plane down at 6:04 (EDT) today after a flight from Los Angeles.

Hazlip's unofficial elapsed time was 10 hours and 19 minutes or almost an hour under Jimmy Doolittle's record of 11 hours and 16 minutes set last year.

AIRPORT, CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 29.—(UP)—Jimmie Hazlip of St. Louis, roared down onto the field at 3:05 p. m. EST today, the first of four racing pilots to complete the $15,000 Bendix trophy race from Los Angeles to Cleveland.

Hazlip's elapsed time was reported unofficially as 8 hours 11 minutes.

The pilot left immediately toward New York without stopping here. A prize of $2500 is offered the flier who continues to New York and breaks Jimmie Doolittle's transcontinental record.

Doolittle's record in the Bendix race last year was 9 hours 16 minutes, 21 seconds and his transcontinental record is 11 hours 16 minutes.

Roscoe Turner of Los Angeles, was the second flier to land, appearing over the field at 5:33 p. m. His unofficial elapsed time was nine hours two minutes 25 seconds. He did not continue on to New York.

Contest judges announced unofficially that Hazlip's time was eight hours 19 minutes, 46.73 seconds. The total distance from Burbank, Calif., the starting point, was announced as 2,041 miles.

Lee Gehlbach's failure to arrive before 3:45 p. m. EST, gave first place in the race to Hazlip, according to unofficial calculations.

Jimmie Wedell of Patterson, La., was third to arrive. His total elapsed time was unofficially announced as 8 hours 47 minutes and 31.01 seconds.

BULLETIN
BERLIN, Aug. 29.—(UP)—Adolf Hitler, Nazi chief, lunching today with Chancellor Von Papen and Defense Minister Von Schleicher, again rejected a political offer by which he would become vice chancellor, with the Prussian premiership and the Prussian and Reich ministries of interior assigned to him. Hitler insisted on the chancellorship for himself. Both sides said, however, that all hope of a compromise was not lost.

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—(UP)—The Republicans of Germany entered a critical week today with the government of Franz von Papen urging a "one year plan for economic recovery" which it hoped would help it rule Germany against all opposition.

The chancellor struck out unexpectedly yesterday at Adolf Hitler and his strong Fascist party, declaring the mustache little Nazi chieftain is "ill-fitted for leadership of the state."

Von Papen denounced Hitler's attitude toward the recent death penalties imposed on five of his storm troopers, convicted of political terrorism as nothing short of "licentious."

Today there was no doubt that

STERLING LEADS FERGUSON
DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 29.—(UP)—Less than 3500 votes today noon separated Governor Ross S. Sterling and Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson, his opponent in one of the most bitterly contested campaigns for the Democratic nomination of governor in Texas history.

The governor's lead at 11 a. m. was 3429 votes, according to the Texas election bureau.

Register Will Give Returns Tuesday Night

Authentic election returns will be furnished by The Register tomorrow night. Persons desiring results are requested to call telephone numbers 87, 88 or 89.

As fast as returns are compiled in The Register office will be announced over Radio Station KREG.

A special United Press wire will furnish returns from all parts of the state. Experienced election return gatherers will obtain the vote from all districts in Orange County and Santa Ana.

The polls will open at 6 a. m. and close at 7 p. m., but it is doubtful if any returns will be received much before 8:30 p. m. due to the unusually large ballot.

BLOCKADES OF OMAHA MARKET ARE STRONGER

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 29.—(UP)—Moving slowly, but with unexpected force, into Nebraska, the farmers' strike today threatened to cut off all access by truck to the Omaha market.

Picket lines around Council Bluffs, Iowa entry to the market, held firm over the weekend, and new groups took control of all but a few Nebraska highways leading into the city.

Effectiveness of the blockade became apparent when officials at the Omaha stockyards reported the lightest hog receipts in many months, with only 3800 arrivals by truck. Most of these were transported over highways not yet closed but expected to be picketed by tonight.

The south route of the Nebraska side was to be closed today, leaders of the farmers announced. Strikers already were picketing the Plattsmouth, Neb., but were only warning truckers before permitting them to continue to the market.

Since last Monday, figures showed, hog receipts here have decreased steadily.

Meanwhile, at other markets, picketing continued. Sioux City was cut off from truck access, Des Moines, the Iowa capital, was blockaded by farmers and by "khaki shirts," the unemployed organization which is aiding them in their fight.

Week-end violence was slight. Two men were injured at Council Bluffs when a railroad tie was Persons from Laguna Beach, San Clemente, Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton, Placentia, Brea, La Habra, Garden Grove, Huntington Beach, Newport Beach, San Juan Capistrano and Santa Ana were interviewed.

The sentiment that it is time for the voters to drive out the political machine and to assert their own rights as a body of citizens is the dominating sentiment which was observed. The sentiment of the taxpayers seems to be clearly pronounced that the terrific increase in governmental expenditure can only be stopped in Orange county by the voters themselves electing such officials from the top to the bottom who are entirely opposed to this kind of a regime.

As one man said: "I have watched, and there isn't one man who is connected with the political machine who has put forth one public effort to aid in the reduction of governmental expenditures, except as he has been forced by public sentiment, which has been created by the taxpayers who cannot stand their heavy burden."

TAXPAYERS PREPARED TO CLEAN HOUSE

Register Representative Finds Sentiment Over County Favors Cleanup

PEOPLE NOT FOOLED

Expect Primaries to Bring Out Heavy Vote; Judges Race Settled Tuesday

REPORTS FROM all sections of Orange county today show that the voters are aroused and intend to make a "cleaning" in the officialdom representing Orange county.

This is the news brought in by a representative of The Register who has been in the various sections of the county ascertaining the sentiment of the people and on which he judges his predictions as to what is going to take place at the polls tomorrow, which it is declared will be a landslide against the machine organization.

Leaders in the campaign are predicting that the various contested positions will bring out one of the heaviest votes in the history of the county. Registration has exceeded all previous records, reaching 58,466 in the county, and 17,179 in Santa Ana. Possibility of a vote in excess of 60 per cent of the registered vote was seen by some observers.

A STATEMENT ON THE SENATORSHIP

In the midst of charges and counter-charges in this hectic political contest, that has been going on, it is well that most of us will, in the quiet and solemnity and sacredness of our own homes tonight, think these questions out and determine what we shall do tomorrow in respect to the primaries, with the thoughts of our home, with the thoughts of our family, and with the thoughts of our children and their future in mind.

There are always the time-servers in political life who are not particularly interested in the causes which they allege to represent, and who will take advantage of the sentiment of the folks, and of the very undone condition, to make promises, who at heart are not greatly interested in the very things of which they speak.

Few issues are settled permanently at any particular moment. Tomorrow's election simply will aid in putting them in the process of solution, and will indicate what is upon the minds of the citizens and what they want done.

We have not said a solitary word in this campaign, in any editorial utterance, that has not been, in our judgment, in the interest of the principles which The Register has been championing. We are not greatly interested in candidates, because they are temporary. Principles are eternal. We may lose with them, but we have won if we have impressed them upon the minds of additional numbers.

At the same time, men are the embodiment of ideas and ideals. There are those who represent very clearly the principles which we believe are fundamentally in the interest of the citizens.

We had determined, as we have said before, that we would not come out and identify those who represented these ideas, but let the people applying the principles, select their own. We have been forced, and are forced today, to break over this rule, in the interest of fairness. This we were forced to do in the last city election, when a letter was sent out on behalf of one candidate, which made it appear that there might be something questionable concerning the other candidate.

The primary has turned very apparently around the matter of State Senatorship. The Register has been mis-represented in respect to that. The Register never asked any man to run for the state senatorship. But it wants to say, in spite of what has been said in a circular, that has been spread broadcast over this county, that Mr. Clyde Downing embodies in his intellectual, personal, social and religious life, the characteristics that would make him one of the finest and ablest representatives of Orange county that she ever sent to the State Senate or any other official body, either in this state or in the capital at Washington.

The attempt to slur and belittle and misrepresent him, either in his independence, or in his personal ability, is unworthy of those men engaged in it. And we believe it is an act that will be resented by the people of the county, and particularly by the voters of Santa Ana, where he is so well known.

We want to emphasize the same thought we did on the day before he was elected city attorney of Santa Ana. We can say it with even more assurance than we could say it on that day, because of the remarkable record he has made since that time. And we are saying this not in the interest of those who know him, because they do not need it, but of those possibly in the county, with whom he has not come in contact, and who may desire to know concerning him.

There is no more able, outstanding civic leader in the city of Santa Ana than is Mr. Downing.

Mr. Downing is not a politician in any ordinary sense of that term. During a great many of the hours which many young attorneys spend building up their practice, he has spent for the public benefit, for which he has received no other return than the consciousness of helping his fellows. When the Community Chest, that has in consideration the various agencies of the city doing social service work, was anxiously looking for some one to head up its program, and was driven from man to man, and failing, it turned to Mr. Downing, and he gave of his time, and rendered a service, for two years, that was second to none of any man who has ever had charge of that work in the city.

His natural response to all things of civic benefit led to his selection as a director of the Chamber of Commerce, and then because of his outstanding ability and graciousness he was elected the president of that body and served in that capacity with success and distinction. He is a gentleman of kindly spirit, broad in his views, and participates in every cause for the upbuilding of Santa Ana. His relationships as an individual, as a man of family, as a man in the church, as a man of affairs, as a friend, as a neighbor, as one interested in the welfare not only of the city and county, but of every man, woman and child in them, are such that the County of Orange would be honoring itself to select such a man for the office of State Senator.

We have had a great deal to do with political life, and have seen many candidates for public office. We have never known a man of higher caliber, of finer parts, better equipped by nature and by preparation for the position which he seeks than is Clyde Downing for the office of State Senator. To know him is to like him. When the war broke out Clyde Downing enlisted, was raised from the rank of private to that of lieutenant and had reached New York on his way across when the Armistice was signed. The appeals of citizenship, personal character, ability and the sense of rewarding a man, in part, for the unselfish service of years, should appeal to the people to support Clyde Downing for this position.

What we are saying, we do not in any way wish to be construed as a reflection upon his opponent. But we know that the voters will honor themselves, and select a man who will add to the lustre of Orange County's fame, by sending to the state Senate that keen, masterful, courageous thinker and speaker, Clyde Downing.

heavy timbers, rescuers furiously dug to the wall of mud and rocks. It was a slow task and they progressed at the rate of only a foot an hour.

Shortly before daybreak they came upon the mud coated bodies of four of the victims. Their identity was not immediately established. The crews dug determinedly on in an effort to find the fifth victim.

Engineers expressed belief the accident was unavoidable. An investigation to determine the extent of damage to the difficult and costly project by the collapse was ordered.

Andrew Bray, who was working in the tunnel not far from the cavern, described the scene. "We had just holed through," he said. "That is, the crews boring in from opposite sides had met. We were bolstering the timbers before cementing the shaft when we heard some rocks tumbling down. Then there was a loud rumble like an explosion."

"I ran toward the sound, but when I got there I was confronted by a wall of dirt and rocks. Some of the 16 men—I think there were five of them—were standing there panic stricken. They had been lucky enough to escape."

Bray, like the victims, was clad in hip boots and was half naked because of the sweltering heat in the 700 feet below the surface shaft.

a muck in which the men were taking was knee deep. The Hetch-Hetchy project, work which has been underway several years, is estimated to have taken more than 50 lives. In January, 1931, a series of landslides entombed 20 men in the Valle-Mocho tunnel for 26 hours. Seven were killed June 7, 1930, by the explosion in the Alameda tunnel, and five weeks later 12 others were killed in an explosion in the Mitchell camp tunnel.

I appeal for the votes of the common man and woman, who have often been forgotten in governmental affairs, and who now want to take their rightful part and be properly represented in the local, state and national government."

VOTERS READY TO END REIGN OF RING HERE

and they can't stand up under the burden any longer."

Still another man declared that the voters in his neighborhood were against secrecy in carrying on public work, and they knew that thousands of dollars would be saved if things were done in the open, and contracts let because of bids and not to personal friends.

From another quarter this morning were heard declarations that they understood, since the names of those receiving money from the county were published, why the great body of newspapers of the county are in a combine to stand by the political machine.

"Return to Sanity" A great many people are following the suggestion of the South Coast Civic League "Repeal the politicians and return to sanity." Many are declaring that there isn't any sense in using thousands of dollars to protect the state from such bills as the Sharkey bill, and sending the same kind of men to the Senate and Legislature who would put the same things over again, maybe in some other form.

Another group was discussing the suggestion printed in a letter in The Register of a "new face" club, and one said: "That is the thing that is needed in Orange county—new faces—and particularly different faces than the ones that have been there for the last 20 years."

One of the men who listened to the publisher of The Register debate with A. Hadaller at Fullerton, and heard Hadaller state that he had been told by a malster that The Register had turned down a $60000 malt contract rather than run it, said, "You can't make me believe that The Register's fight for all these good points in government is to get simply a job of printing, when they are turning such contracts as that down, for the sake of carrying out their principles."

In many sections of the county there were expressions by people, who declared that they weren't being fooled by the newspapers nor the politicians; that they realized that neither of them could answer the facts which had been presented, nor the causes which The Register is championing, and that the personal assaults upon the publisher and the paper were seen through very clearly as simply "dust being thrown into the eyes of the people" to deceive them and keep them from voting their real convictions.

Voters Aroused In other places in the county today it was learned that people, on learning the tremendous number of salaried employees of the county, and the amounts paid, were aroused in the light of their own income and their burden of taxes, and their inability to meet obligations.

A strange sentiment was expressed yesterday by some of the political leaders, who were more interested in winning the national ticket than anything else. They in some sections were in sympathy with the masses in the nomination of the people's candidate for State Senator, because they said if we nominate Downing, it will strengthen the whole ticket, and help carry the national ticket on election day. This was the sentiment expressed by some of the "hold time" politicians, who said though they hated to do it, they wanted to strengthen the ticket.

While other candidates are battling it out to see who will get on the ticket for the November election the four candidates seeking the two superior court positions under contest, will have their suspension ended tomorrow.

Judge H. G. Ames, incumbent, is seeking re-election and is opposed by Roland Thompson. Judge James L. Allen, incumbent, is opposed for re-election by Franklin G. West.

For the benefit of former eastern residents who are casting their first ballot in California it is stated that ballots can be marked only by the rubber stamp in each voting booth. Pencil or any other marking will cause the ballot to be thrown out.

All banks and public offices, including city and county offices will be closed all day tomorrow. The board of supervisors, scheduled to hold their weekly meeting tomorrow will meet on Wednesday instead. The board of education set up the date of a special meeting scheduled for tomorrow night, to tonight.

Polls open in the 344 Orange county precincts at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning and close at 7 p. m. There are 71 precincts in Santa Ana, four of which are outside the first supervisorial district, where a hot contest is being waged between eight candidates for supervisor. The candidates seeking this office are: William K. Getty, B. T. Dowden, Charles Van Wyk, Stanley Goode, William Martin, James Metzgar, John Knox and William Jerome.

In the third district the race for supervisor is between Wm. Schumacher, supervisor for the past 20 years who is seeking reelection and is opposed by W. J. Carmichael, Fullerton, LeRoy Lyon, Placentia, Herbert Oelke and John Kellenberger Jr., both of Anaheim.

Another hot battle is under way for the Republican nomination for state senator from this district between Senator Nelson T. Edwards, seeking reelection, and City Attorney Clyde C. Downing. D. G. Wetlin is the Democratic candidate, unopposed.

In the Seventy-fourth Assembly district five candidates are seeking the Republican nomination for assembly. They are: Loyal K. King, James E. Utt, Thomas Murphy, Robert Speed and Mrs. Carl Mock. Frank Harwood is the only candidate for this office on the Democratic ticket.

In the Seventy-fifth Assembly district Assemblyman Ted Craig is opposed for re-election on the Republican ticket by Edward Long and R. W. Ramsey is the Democratic candidate.

Republican candidates for United States senator are: Congressman Joe Crail, Senator Samuel M. Shortridge, incumbent, Robert P. Shuler, Leo V. Youngworth and Tallant Tubbs.

Republican candidates for Congress from Nineteenth district are: Lyman M. King, Chester M. King, Dr. Harold R. Miller, Sam I. Collins, and Sumner Crosby.

not for the benefit of the great majority of the people. "The Bankers' broadside on your lawn today declared the sponsors of Mr. Edwards were "not politicians." Well, Mr. Chapman is Southern California manager for Senator Shortridge, who voted for the beer bill at Washington. Mr. Hartman was formerly in the state legislature. Mr. McFadden has introduced Mr. Edwards in public addresses, and Mr. Cruickshank is head of the biggest Santa Ana bank, and I will leave it to the citizens of Orange county whether or not officers of this institution have had any political activities in our county.

"Perhaps they're not politicians, but certainly they are taking a deep interest in politics at the present moment, when the old county political machine is menaced by an aroused public.

"If the people of Orange county send me to the state senate, it will be to represent THEM, and not bank interests, oil operators, or any other special group. ## RAW MATERIAL DEMAND CAUSE OF WILD RUSH

New York skyrocketing in response to reports of gains in rubber markets at London and on the European continent.

Wheat prices all over the world were higher. At Chicago, futures were almost a cent a bushel higher, while Liverpool gained a penny a bushel. Grain markets at Rotterdam, Buenos Aires and other centers were buoyant.

Cocoa and sugar markets at New York were in the hands of bulls, who bid prices up vigorously. Cocoa was in heavy demand and spurted 12 to 23 points to new highs on the current rise. Sugar gained 1 to 2 points.

Profit taking sales by speculators were readily absorbed in all centers, except Liverpool where the cotton market was depressed by the strike of mill workers in Lancashire, which went into effect today.

thrown through the windshield of a truck.

At Des Moines, a dairyman clashed with pickets who sought to stop his truck but was able to escape from them and continue to the city.

No agreement had yet been reached regarding a proposed increase in milk prices here, and three large dairies continued to refuse to deal with strikers as long as picketing was maintained.

Ranks of Iowa picketers around Council Bluffs were reduced over Sunday, but strike leaders said this was done purposely because the large groups were unwieldy and difficult to control.

Boy Breaks Leg In Fall From Roof

Bill Cole, 9 years old, suffered a broken right leg yesterday afternoon when he fell off the roof of his home.

The boy was taken to the Orange county hospital where his condition today was reported as satisfactory. The lad lives at 2639 North Main street.

WILL ROGERS says:

BISHOP, Aug. 29. — (To the Editor of The Register:) Well, I see where Mr. Roosevelt in New Jersey had a big Democratic rally and mosquito rodeo. There was 100 Democrats there applauding or fighting mosquitoes, you couldn't tell which. A few Republicans were there to cheer the insects on in their good work. The original Roosevelt used to call it "pussfooting." This one took in the whole cat. He called it "pussycatting."

Charlie Chaplin says he is afraid his boys will grow up and find out they were actors once. Charlie's actors are like politicians, they never grow up.

The average talker speaks at about 90 words a minute; a fast talker will often hit a clip of 150 words a minute.

My company has to watch me every day to keep me from playing Little Lord Fauntleroy. There is nothing as "kittenish" as an old Senator campaigning. You got to watch him or he will parade right out on the rostrum with rompers on.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

ANOTHER SHAFT AT POLITICAL BOSSES FIRED

Seeking the support of voters in this district who wish crime to be curbed and the eighteenth amendment enforced, Chester M. Kline, candidate for congress, delivered an address over KREG today.

"I have served 15 years continuously in the state senate and the assembly and am now speaker pro tem. With this experience I can upon election take up the work immediately without waiting to serve an apprenticeship," he declared.

"I will support the eighteenth amendment, as my record in the past will prove. Dry leaders have given me a 100 per cent record on dry and moral issues in my legislative service, and in my campaign for congress.

"When you elect me to congress you know I will continue my efforts for economy and efficiency

Discover Body Of Boy Floating In Ocean Off Newport

The body of Billy Lyon, six-year-old son of Lewis Lyon, Los Angeles business man, was found floating in the ocean off Newport Beach early this morning by Pete Arnish, a fisherman.

The boy was drowned August 14, when he fell off a yacht a mile and a half off shore. The father saw him fall and jumped into the sea to save him, but the lad's body was never seen again after it went under. The father swam around for a long time, desperately trying to locate his son and was almost drowned himself, it was reported.

The body of the boy was taken to the Chezum Undertaking parlors at Costa Mesa, where it is being held pending an inquest which probably will be held by Coroner Earl Abbey tomorrow.

Hold 15 Chinese In County Jail

Fifteen Chinese, alleged to have been "pushed over the line" by Mexicans at Mexicali, were brought here today from San Diego where they will be held pending deportation proceedings against them.

The Chinese were first taken to San Diego and crowded jail conditions there caused them to be removed to the jail here.

Florida has the largest area of swamps and wet lands of any of the states—19,800,000 acres.

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT

Though the land be devastated by fire and earthquake, man's spirit survives and he rebuilds that which was destroyed. Man's spirit is unconquerable because he partakes of the life of the divine.

Those who are compelled to leave to others their earthly tasks which appear to be unfinishable know that God will commission the rest of us to complete these while they undertake the greater and far more glorious service which was opened before them.

They speed onward without regret because they trust us to carry on their work. With God's help we shall not fail them.

TO VOTERS OF THE 74TH ASSEMBLY DISTRICT

Friends, I would like to write a personal word tonight to you.

I know that there are literally thousands who believe in The Register and believe in the principles for which The Register stands. I have had many offers of aid in support of our battle for what we believe to be the best things in government, and the best things in social and economic life.

May I ask you tomorrow to evidence your appreciation of The Register and its fight by voting for Loyal K. King, running for the Assembly on the Republican ticket?

Mr. King is my son-in-law, and a better son-in-law a father could not have. He is worthy, capable, an outstanding man, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, one who knows what human need is and is a student of every public question.

There are those who are opposed to The Register, and who have been personally opposed to me for the things for which I stand, who want to "take it out on" him.

I do not expect their vote, but those of you who are free and untrammelled, and who are not affected so by prejudice, I ask you personally to put your cross opposite the name of Loyal K. King, and give me that much encouragement personally, to offset the personal efforts that are being made against Mr. King to hurt me by hurting him.

J. F. BURKE.

ARRANGE FOR AUTOS TO TAKE PUBLIC TO VOTE

Santa Ana voters who wish to go to the polls tomorrow to cast their votes and who have no means of transportation, may obtain transportation to and from the polls in automobile tomorrow through efforts of the local American Legion post, it was announced today by Harry Pickard, chairman of the Get-Out-the-Vote committee of the Legion.

Probably 20 cars will be at the disposal of voters tomorrow, Pickard said, and transportation to and from the polls can be secured by telephoning the Legion hall, No. 2708. The cars will be stationed at the Legion hall on Birch street between Third and Fourth streets.

Pickard made a request that all Legion members who can possibly do so, report to the Legion hall tomorrow to assist in taking care of the transportation of voters, which is a regular public service performed by the local Legion post.

Arrangements for a fleet of automobiles to be at the disposal of voters on Tuesday were completed last night at a meeting of the Van Wyk-for-Supervisor committee and workers in the campaign. Following the meeting it was announced that 15 automobiles will be in service from the time the polls open at 6 a. m. until they close at 7 p. m.

These automobiles primarily will be to take elderly people to their polling places and back to their homes. They also will be at the service of others who have no means of transportation to and from the polling booths. For an automobile to call and transport voters telephone 1534 and inform committee workers what time it is desirable for the machine to call.

Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, Worth C. Miller and Dave Weber were among those who attended the Arizona picnic from Cypress.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Barnett have returned to their home in Santa Maria after a week's visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Barnett.

Scots Dance, Wed., Aug. 31, 303 1/2 E. 4th.—(Adv.)

Three Candidates Will Go On Radio

Three candidates for election to various offices at the polls tomorrow will give their last minute addresses to the voters tonight when they go on the air over radio KREG.

At 7:30 p. m. City Attorney Clyde Downing, candidate for state senate, will go on the air for 15 minutes and briefly outline some of the issues in the campaign.

At 7:45 p. m. Congressman Joe Crall who is seeking election as United States Senator will be heard and James Metzgar, candidate for supervisor from the First district will talk for five minutes, starting at 8:25 p. m.

OFFICIAL OF LEAGUE URGES VOTERS TO ACT

A last minute pre-election statement issued today by Wayne Goble, secretary of the Orange County Civic League, was as follows:

"We believe in the collective judgment of an enlightened public, and are confident the voters will make themselves heard tomorrow for lower taxes and a more representative government, uncontrolled by any group which represents but a small minority of the people."

"Many people have thanked us for the Civic League endorsements, announced on Saturday, and have declared their intention of voting this ticket straight, in order to make an effective, concentrated public demand for economy, freedom from political machine, full publicity about the public business, and the other things for which the League stands."

"We believe it is particularly important to concentrate our votes for Metzgar as supervisor, King as assemblyman, and in other groups where there are so many candidates that a scattered vote might defeat the purpose which all of us want."

"We believe in majority rule for the benefit of the majority of the people, and the vote tomorrow will determine to a large extent the kind of government we deserve. By all means every eligible voter should vote, for only in that way can he help select his favorite candidates to be elected at the general election on November 3."

Candidates To Speak at Meet Of Unemployed

Scheduled strictly as an educational feature, a number of candidates for public office will speak at an open meeting of the Unemployed Association of Santa Ana which will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the headquarters assembly room in the old Willard school building on North Main street, it was announced today by Charles T. Seeber.

The decision to stage the meeting was made by directors of the unemployed group. The association wishes to go on record as endorsing no candidates for any office, and this meeting is to be held so that members may get the viewpoints of different candidates. It will not be a business meeting.

Any candidate for public office is eligible to speak at the meeting, Seeber declared. All members of the association were urged to attend.

SPANISH WAR VET OFFICIALS MAKE DENIAL

Statements declaring that neither Calumpit camp, United Spanish War Veterans, nor the auxiliary, have endorsed the candidacy of Senator N. T. Edwards for state senator, were made today by C. E. Winters, commander of the camp, and Mrs. H. C. Moberly, president of the auxiliary.

In a wide distributed publication entitled "Square Deal Forum," appearing today, a story was published with a headline which said "Endorsement is Made by Vets of Spanish War." The attention of The Register was called to the statement today by Winters, who said the statement was false.

On a page of the Edwards propaganda sheet, the story which appeared under the above mentioned heading, stated that "The Spanish-American society of Orange county, with a membership of 1500 voters, at a meeting here last night, unanimously endorsed the candidacy of Senator N. T. Edwards." The story appeared with a Santa Ana date line of August 26.

The Spanish-American society is not a veteran organization, but is a group of American-born Mexicans, who met Wednesday night in the Willard school in Santa Ana, according to members.

A statement made today by Sol Gonzalez, prominent Santa Ana business man and member of the Spanish-American society, said the membership of the organization totals but about 75, and not 1500, as stated in the "news" article in the publication. Furthermore, Gonzalez, who was present at the meeting, declared the society did not endorse the candidacy of Senator Edwards, as was claimed.

The term "cowboys" was first used during the American Revolutionary War. It applied to a band of Tories who stole cattle from both sides.

REPORT COUNTY WORKERS USED IN CAMPAIGN

Made desperate by indications the people of the third supervisorial district are sick and tired of the 26-year "dynasty" of the incumbent, the Schumacher camp has sent county employees into the northern Orange county section to circulate petitions on behalf of Schumacher. It is reported today from that district.

The employees of the county are putting up the story that they will lose their jobs unless the present supervisor is re-elected. The signers of the petitions pledge themselves to secure 10 votes for the incumbent.

The wife of a county employee is circulating one petition and is painting a gloomy picture of what is to happen to her husband and the county in general if Schumacher is not allowed to "feed at the public trough" for another term.

Say Claim Ridiculous

The circulators of the papers are claiming that if the "Boes" is defeated, whoever is elected in his place will immediately take steps to oust everyone on the county payroll from the third district.

Other candidates for the office of third district supervisor have declared that these claims are ridiculous and are merely being circulated to help Schumacher.

The desperate move by Schumacher backers recalled to observers the last minute attempt of two of the leading oil corporations to defeat the Sharkey bill at the last election.

The oil companies had their employees going about the county soliciting support for the measure, which had the backing of all the big corporations and State Senator N. T. Edwards of Orange.

Similar Tactics

One oil firm forced its men, under penalty of losing their jobs, to write personal letters to friends asking them to vote for the Sharkey bill. Another company compelled its employees to sign a petition in support of the bill. This petition was later published in full page form in newspapers which had agreed to ignore the tactics of the oil corporations.

It is understood that members of the unemployed associations of the third district are being assured by the Schumacher camp that "Bill" loves the jobless man. Cash and groceries are reported to have been sent to the commissaries with the request that the "boys" do their bit to help the incumbent.

It is reported that the members of the unemployed associations are disgusted with the incumbent and intend to put another man in the supervisor's chair.

PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, Aug. 28.—The Rev. and Mrs. Frank Dowling are planning to move to their ranch at the corner of Dowling road and Crowther avenue soon, from their place of residence on Olive boulevard.

Mrs. Ed Backs and Miss Geraldine Kraemer left Thursday evening by train for Mexico City where they expect to remain several weeks, thence returning by boat.

Mrs. J. Charles Thamer has been critically ill at her home on Placentia avenue. She is said to be improving.

POLICE CAR IN HALL EXPLAINS CRASH: WOMAN DRIVER HELD

A woman was arrested after her car crashed into a Santa Ana police car, and five persons were reported injured in seven automobile accidents in Santa Ana and vicinity over the week end, according to reports from police stations and hospitals.

The woman arrested was Jacqueline Parker, of 711 East Sixth street, Los Angeles, who was given a ticket charging reckless driving, after her car is said to have struck a "shotgun" car of the police department, driven by W. H. Heard at 2:45 a. m. yesterday.

Police reported the woman had been drinking but was not drunk enough to cause her arrest on that charge. No one was hurt.

Car Overtaken

George Bradley, of 2347 North Flower street, and Gorham Smith, of 515 Wisteria place, suffered cuts and bruises at 3:20 a. m. Sunday when the car in which they were riding overturned near the Eddie Martin Airport at the end of South Main street. They were taken to the county hospital where their injuries were given medical attention and then allowed to go to their homes.

No one was hurt when cars driven by Ruth Nelson, of 1602 Santa Clara street, San Jose and Miss Evelyn May Morrison, of Santa Ana, collided at Church and North Main streets at 1 p. m. yesterday. Miss Morrison reported that a party in the other car cursed her, and grabbed her wrists and hurt them so that she had difficulty in driving her car home after the accident.

Frank Clark, of 410 West Second street escaped injury when his car overturned at Parton and Walnut streets at 1 p. m. yesterday, after colliding with a machine driven by Rex Parks, of 822 South Parton street, according to a report filed with the city police.

Back Injured Charles Story, 35, of 1109 West Pine street, suffered an injured back when the car he was driving collided with a machine driven by H. R. McInnis, of Costa Mesa, Route No. 1, Saturday, south of Santa Ana.

Margaret Rolph, 29, of 320 South Glassell street, Orange, suffered cuts and bruises when the car in which she was riding with Gladys Woodmansee, 23, of Costa Mesa, collided with a machine driven by J. G. Sargent, 63, of Route 1, Fullerton. The accidents occurred at Santa Ana street and Broadway, Costa Mesa.

Charicia Woodward, of 569 North Lemon street, Orange, was cut about the head and badly hurt when the car he was driving overturned at Grana yesterday afternoon. He attempted to make a turn at the intersection and his steering gear locked, he reported.

Franklin G. West Closes Campaign

Franklin G. West, well known Santa Ana attorney, today concluded a vigorous but dignified campaign for judge of the superior court, office No. 2.

Pledged to a fair, impartial and courteous administration of all laws, with the exercise of practical economy in the arrangement of court callendars, West comes before the voters for the first time, never having previously held or sought elective office.

His supporters claim that West is eminently suited for the bench, calling attention to the candidate's education and wide experience in legal procedure, as well as an excellent judicial temperament.

MORSE PILGRIMAGE

American tourists in Paris who like to look up the haunts of famous Americans in that city and trace their footsteps, can undertake a Morse pilgrimage if they are interested in the father of telegraphy. Samuel F. B. Morse, under the Monarchy of 1830-48, was presented at the Tuilleries to King Louis Philippe by General Cass the U. S. Ambassador. He lived in 1838 in the Rue de Rivoli, near the place des Pyramides. Nearby lived the poet N. P. Willis, where he often met Fenimore Cooper. His chief shrine, however, is the Saint-Lazare Gare.

Judges

A lady just called us up . . . an earnest mother with a family . . . a woman who knows something of what it is to rear children. She asked our support for Roland Thompson for judge. WHY? Because of all the judges, and candidates for judge, Thompson is the only man who has children. We were greatly moved by this mother's eloquent appeal for a judge who understands children—who has some of his own—and who would humanize the cases where boys and girls were concerned, if elected.

This is a slant on the judge-ships of which we had not thought.

And . . . we got the mother's name—she is a local business woman—not a paid political solicitor—she wants a fair chance for her boys and the other boys and girls of Orange county.

We pass this information on to you. It seems worthy of any voter's consideration.

Maily a mother and father will think of it when the crosses are put on the ballots.

Downing To Speak At Anaheim

Clyde A. Hall, of Los Angeles, former employee of the Metropolitan Water District, whose name was signed to a letter received recently by Santa Ana men whom he had assisted in registering for Colorado river work on the aqueduct, urging them to vote for William C. Jerome for supervisor from the First District, made a statement Saturday concerning the letter.

Word of the letter left recipients under the impression that the communication was from some one connected with the Metropolitan Water District. It intimated that the possibility of recipient receiving work with the district depended upon their voting for Jerome.

Hall declared Saturday that his signature was appended to the letter as an individual and that it was not intended to link the Metropolitan Water District with the letter or Jerome's candidacy. He said:

"The letter I sent out in reference to the campaign of William C. Jerome was not sent by me as a representative of the Metropolitan Water District but as an individual who has learned through years of experience the necessity of electing men to all offices who are thoroughly in accord with the water conservation program of Southern California.

"Over a period of 20 years I have known William Jerome to be in sympathy with water conserva-

Residents of the Northern part of Orange county will be given an opportunity to hear Clyde C. Downing, Santa Ana city attorney who is a candidate for state senator from this district, when he speaks at an open, public meeting to be held at 7:45 o'clock tonight in the auditorium of the Fremont school in Anaheim, it was announced today.

It is expected that a large crowd will turn out to hear Downing talk tonight, as county-wide interest has been manifest in the campaign which has taken place between Downing and his opponent, Senator N. T. Edwards of Orange.

tion and to have contributed large sums of money toward furthering the program that was finally approved by the voters.

"I have not been an employee of the Metropolitan Water District since January 15 of this year. During the time I was in the employ of the district I was given to understand the district was taking no part in politics and I was instructed to be absolutely neutral toward all candidates."

Five hundred years before the birth of Christ, Hippocrates, a Greek, wrote a book on medical science which is still studied by students all over the world.

THIS AD ORDERED AND PAID FOR BY THE "GOODE FOR SUPERVISOR" SUPPORTERS

LIQUOR STAND TOLD IN TALK BY JOHN KNOX

Expressing confidence that he will be on the ballot for the final election, and even may be elected at the primary election tomorrow, John Knox, former mayor who is now candidate for election as supervisor from this district, delivered an address over KREG Saturday night telling of his stand on various public matters.

Knox told his listeners that he stands for a fair deal for all citizens, for the enforcement of all laws including the Eighteenth amendment and the Wright act. He declared that he would follow the policy he adopted as mayor of Santa Ana if elected to the board of supervisors, in standing behind officers of the law to eliminate bootleggers and criminals from the county.

Against Special Privilege
"I stand against the domination or influence of anyone or group seeking special privilege or advantage of the public in any way," the speaker declared. "I am against public contracts being let to friends, at an increase of rates of what similar commodities may be secured elsewhere, especially where legitimate bids can cut down the cost to the taxpayer. I stand squarely upon the principle of making it a condition precedent in letting all contracts, that Orange county labor be employed and that material be purchased from Orange county dealers wherever practical."

"I stand for a conservative levying of taxes, for the purpose of strict economy, and for the equitable distribution of all tax monies, whether derived from the gasoline tax, direct tax or other sources, which in the past has been unmer-itally abused, benefiting one class of taxpayers as against others.

Tax Burden
"Tax burdens have become so great that many good citizens have lost their homes and property values are being absolutely destroyed, but worse than the loss of property, is the destruction of the morale of our citizens, all of which is bringing about an unfortunate condition. I will exert my influence in the restoration of confidence."

"I am unalterably opposed to the vicious provisions of the Matoon act, wherein it is made possible for any city council, board of supervisors or others, to execute bonds without limit against the property of the commonwealth, which is much or tax burden abuse."

"I stand for the necessary water conservation and flood control. I consider the unemployed situation the greatest economic problem that the board of supervisors may have to deal with in the near future. The best judgment and consideration of this condition will demand the attention of our supervisors."

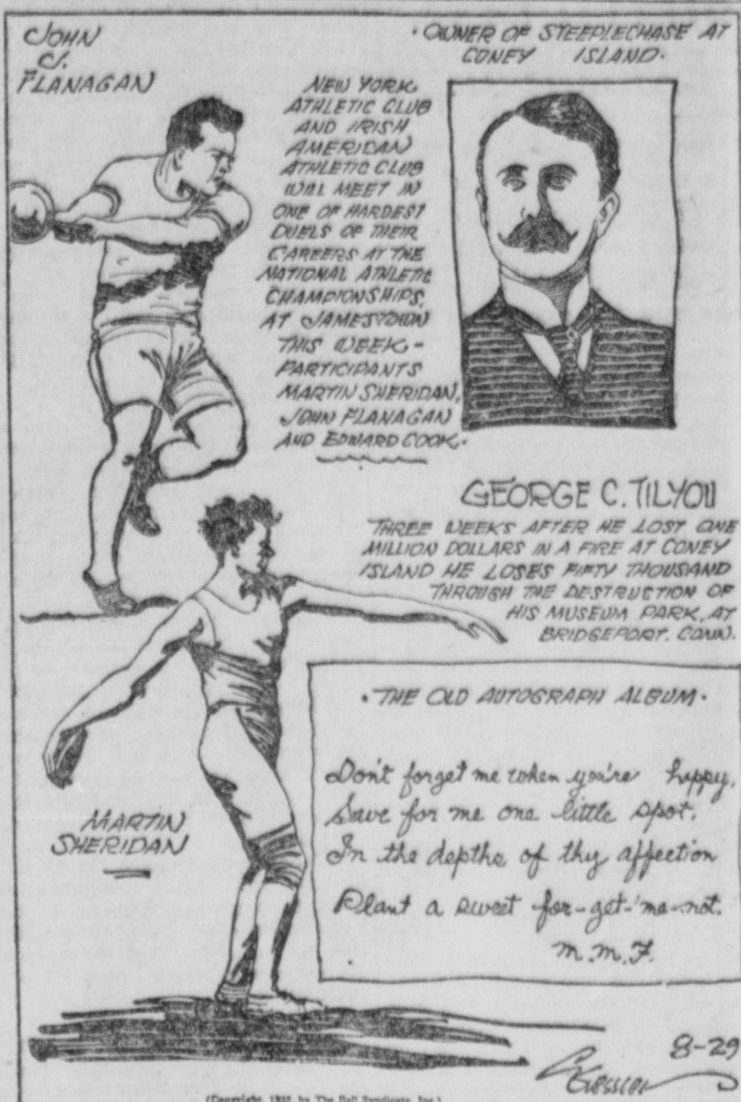

In closing Knox pointed out his qualifications for office, and declared that he is under no obligation to the self-seeking interest of any firm, clique or corporation.

J. C. METZGAR for SUPERVISOR

He is a PROVEN FOE of needless bond issues and all public extravagance.

He is just the kind of Supervisor needed on the Board.

He has demonstrated repeatedly his COURAGE TO FIGHT for the right.

ELECT HIM TOMORROW! You'll Never Regret It!

Sentiment for tax economy and freedom from "ring" politics means nothing unless we go to the polls and VOTE. So make it a point, in your own interest, to vote early tomorrow for JAMES C. METZGAR. His name appears on all ballots in the First Supervisorial district.

We appreciate the overwhelming endorsement of Mr. Metzgar by adherents of the Orange County Civic League, and wish to publicly thank them for it, as well as other endorsements received. Many of us have supported the League's policies of benefiting the MAJORITY, by wise tax economy and other issues, and believe this endorsement was merited by Mr. Metzgar's record for opposing extravagance and thus saving Orange county taxpayers many thousands of dollars.

We want also to thank the many volunteers who have called to assist in the campaign, and who have done yeoman work in presenting his proven qualifications to the voters of their neighborhoods. Now for just one more day of concentrated effort, for the battle is not yet won! If any others can volunteer their services or a car to help tomorrow, we would welcome their aid. Telephone 3388 or call at Mr. Metzgar's office upstairs in the Pacific Building, S. E. Corner Third and Broadway.

FROM EVERY STANDPOINT, WE BELIEVE IT IS VITAL THAT METZGAR BE ELECTED. METZGAR WILL WORK AND FIGHT FOR THE PEOPLE'S RIGHTS. PLEASE HELP ELECT HIM!

more than 200 pounds, said to be the only baby walrus in captivity in the United States, Capt. Fred Lewis, ranch owner and sportsman returned to his bay front home yesterday in his 180-foot steam yacht Stranger from a cruise to Alaska and northern waters.

The young walrus several young bear and other animals captured in the north will be given to the San Diego zoo, to which Captain Lewis gave numerous rare specimens of fish life after a trip to Mexican waters last winter. He was scheduled to arrive in San Diego harbor with the Stranger today.

The northern cruise began here April 15 and took the Stranger with its crew of 18 to the Arctic circle, via Behring strait. Altogether the yacht traversed 10,894 miles and required 108 stops. Mrs. Lewis accompanied the expedition as far as Juneau, capital of Alaska. The walrus was discovered on an ice floe and had to be lassoed. It is now four months old. It has lived in special quarters on the yacht, including a tank, and is fed every three hours, getting 22 cans of condensed cream every 24 hours. Captain Lewis also brought back two Kodiak bears, six months old. This variety of bear is said to be much more ferocious than the American grizzly. Two young black bears and a larger one were also caught, also two eagles.

One of the queerest water craft ever seen here was purchased by Captain Lewis from the Eskimos and will be kept in Newport beach. It is called an umiakak and is made entirely of walrus hide and driftwood, yet can seat more than a dozen passengers and the Eskimos said that three walruses each weighing more than 100 pounds had been carried on it.

Many visitors visited the Stranger in the bay yesterday, and 11 friends of Captain and Mrs. Lewis were guests during a ride on the umiakak.

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

OTTAWA

The whole story has not been told about that Imperial conference at Ottawa.

Only half the agreements were made public. What they will amount to remains to be seen. Britain could make it hurt if she enforced them rigidly. We suspect she will not. Her interests lie in our direction.

For instance Britain promised Canada concessions in grain, copper, zinc and lead if Canada offers them "in sufficient quantities" at "not more than the world price." The administration of that provision could make it mean much or little.

Our experts think it will mean little.

The whole agreement is like that—"If, and, but." It is composed of high sounding phrases that will not work out in practice. It was unquestionably fixed up to save the faces of the participants just as the conference was about to end in bald failure.

Canada and South Africa will have a hard time getting their parliaments to ratify. Some changes will unquestionably be made. England will ratify without objections in all probability.

The news stories out of the conference were loaded with empire propaganda. The announcement that England would renounce her trade agreement with Russia was pure hooey. She will only prevent unfair Russia dumping. Her main agreements with Russia will stick. Official publicists at the conference did everything the law allows to create the picture of a big happy family. That is far from the case.

TRADES
England will not start dickering with Continental European traders for new treaties. The Ottawa agreement gives her a powerful weapon. She can threaten them with rigid enforcement unless they come through. That same weapon can and probably will be used against us in the World Economic Conference.

WATSON

Deep reasons lay behind the refusal of Charles B. Thomas of Indiana to serve on the Federal Farm Board.

Few Republicans have had the audacity to decline a presidential appointment after it was made. It created almost a sensation here. Authorities hushed it up with the explanation that Thomas really wanted to get a Home Loan Mortgage bank for Indianapolis. He thought, his appointment might embarrass that. Why that would follow was not made clear.

The fact is that Jim Watson recommended Thomas for the Home Loan Mortgage Board. Watson fostered that act for the President. His friends thought he ought to have a place on it. The President apparently thought otherwise. He tried to make amends by giving Watson's friend the vacant Farm Board post.

Unfortunately the President did not check with Watson to see if it would be all right. Had he done so he would have found that Watson thinks the Farm Board is no place for any of his friends. What he really thinks about it could not be printed in a family newspaper.

The odds are 50 to 1 that Indianapolis will get a Home Loan Mortgage Bank out of the melee. It probably will take more than that to mend the wounds.

Watson's part in getting the Home Loan Mortgage system through the last Congress is one of the best legislative jockeying jobs he ever did. Everybody thought the bill was dead but he saved it.

TAXES

The condition of the Federal Treasury is much better than recent published figures would lead you to believe. We may wind up the year without a deficit.

Miscellaneous tax receipts are running about one-fourth more than last year. Income taxes are three-eighths less.

The deficit today is about four and a half millions. That will be wiped out when the miscellaneous receipts start coming in volume within a few weeks. Administration wants to disprove not improbable if business gets a little better.

PURGING

There is an undercurrent of Administration dissatisfaction that the old line party leaders are so silent in the campaign. Efforts are under way to prod them along. The Administration wants to disprove the stories that some leaders would just as soon see Mr. Hoover beaten in order that the party may be reorganized.

The most conspicuous sphinx is Republican Floor Leader Watson of the Senate. He took to the woods, the Wisconsin woods, after Congress adjourned. Nothing has been heard from him since except that he is going to conduct his own re-election campaign as far away from the national campaign as possible.

Others whose absence from the headlines is noticed include: Senators Reed of Pennsylvania, Snodgrass of Utah, Charles Hilles, William S. Vare et al.

Those who are carrying the load of the campaign include only two of the old party wheelhorses: Senator Moses and Representative Snell. They are doing a strong job.

NOTES

The Democrats are having a rough time on the inside getting money for their campaign. Several persons who were promised jobs have been turned down with the excuse that there is not enough money available to take them on. . . . Republican headquarters show some signs of moderate prosperity. . . . They are taking on a few more helpers. . . . The A. E. of L. officials will probably all vote for Roosevelt but keep quiet about it. . . . There is not much Hoover sentiment in that camp. . . . The organization is conducting a strong campaign against the sales tax. . . . Its information indicates that sales tax promoters now have been working out in the country with bankers and business men so as to start a big tax revision movement on that basis in December. . . .

NEW YORK
By James McMillan

NORMAN

One reason for Montagu Norman's visit at this time may lie in the changed attitude of Eugene Streever a year ago. Mr. Norman didn't think that England was important in the economic picture. Now he feels differently about it.

New York can't quite figure out why Norman had to travel under the alias of "Professor Clarence Skinner." Comment here points out that the name is a wonderful break for opponents of debt revision.

OTTAWA

A New York bank which followed the proceedings at the Imperial Conference closely states that the virtual breakdown was due primarily to Stanley Baldwin's awkwardness and Englishness as a negotiator. He seemed to high-hat the Dominions.

Presently it will be clearer that Ottawa was intended chiefly as a curtain-raiser for the World Economic Conference. England now knows exactly where the Dominions stand.

SILVER

The World Economic Conference probably will make silver an important part of its agenda. Preliminary negotiations looking to world stabilization at a higher price than rules at present have made progress. The initiative came from this country. Support has already been promised from France (on account of French interests in the Far East), Canada, India, Mexico and several South American countries.

BANKS

One reason why member bank loans continue to contract is that banks have taken advantage of the rise in securities to close out a lot of undermargined loans which would have represented a loss if they had been cancelled earlier. A fair volume of selling has come from this source but has had no appreciable effect on the market. Bankers in general are far from convinced of the permanency of present security prices.

NEW YORK CITY

The banks are hot that the local Administration has done so little worthwhile about reducing the New York City budget. Consequently they are going to get hard-boiled when credit renewals come up for action. There is a tie-up here with the Citizens Budget Commission. This may produce results where neither the banks nor the Budget Committee could get anywhere independently.

SEABURY

No special prestige has been added to Judge Seabury by the Albany hearing of Walker's case. Because an ice-wagon was sent to catch a weasel the costs in time and money have passed beyond all reason.

RELIEF

The American Federation of Labor and the American Legion are putting on a private joint campaign among large corporations in an effort to get men employed in any capacity and on any terms. In the case of a large food company wholesale sampling was suggested. Some of the corporations are sympathetically inclined but none has acted as yet. Copyright, 1932, McClure Newspaper Syn.

In South America there are some trees known as "cow trees" which, when plucked, yield a rich, milky, nutritious juice in such abundance as to render it an important article of food.

Chicago Baseball Mad As Cubs Extend Lead

That well-known little bird that goes about carrying tidbits of gossip from town to town was chirping noisily in our neighborhood the other day.

"Where have you been all summer?" said the little fellow, "that you haven't printed the big news about the trades Mr. Connie Mack is going to make. Your ignorance is alarming."

An honest confession is good for the soul. I confessed that I had been trying to get the water out of my ears ever since suffering an early-season outdoor plunge on Decoration Day, and still wasn't able to hear very well.

"Why?" I asked the birdie. "There's plenty doing," replied my feathered friend. "For one thing, George Earnshaw is going to be traded. Al Simmons is going to be traded. And, of all things, Mickey Cochrane is going to be traded. Don't tell me you haven't heard all about it!"

HEY! WHAT'S THIS?

"Traded," replied my correspondent, "to whom, and for what?"

"Traded to the White Sox," replied talkative birdie. "Well, not so much traded as sold. Mr. Mack hasn't been making money this year the way the Shrikes over at Philadelphia are accustomed to see him make it. The club is in the red, and is losing caste. Would you believe it when I tell you that a large part of the A' following in Philly has swung over to the Phils?"

"How much money does Mr. Mack expect to make by selling Simmons, Cochrane and Earnshaw to the White Sox?"

THE PRICE TAGS

"Well, you know as much about that as I would. How much do you think they would be worth to a team like the White Sox?"

"About half a million dollars."

"You don't mean that, of course. But they are worth $250,000 and there isn't a doubt in the world about it."

"So, bird—what is Mr. Mack going to do for a baseball team next year without those three players?"

"Mr. Mack is going to build up to take their places. He figures the team needs new blood. Simmons has slumped and needs a change. Big George is too familiar with the place, and instead of pitching, just clown around. Cochrane isn't satisfied. 'Mickey' feels that a change would do him good."

"The fact is, a team with a payroll like the A's has to win a pennant to make any money in a city the size of Philadelphia."

"But imagine the White Sox in the first division, fighting for the pennant! You can bet your last shirt that Comiskey park would be filled all night before every home game."

COMISKEY ALL SET

"Have the White Sox enough money to buy these three players?"

"Well, Louis Comiskey says he isn't going to stop until he has the White Sox out there fighting for a pennant, and Louie has a pretty important bankroll to work with."

"Doesn't that mean more loan years ahead for the A's?"

"Not especially. Mack figures that, he might as well have a fifth place club as one that runs second, so far as patronage at the ball park is concerned. And just look at the cut he will be making in the payroll! That's something to be considered, too, isn't it?"

"Well, yes, perhaps it is."

THIRLED FANS ALREADY AFTER SERIES DUCATS

BY FRANK G. MENKE

(I. N. S. Sports Editor)
CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—(INS)—An epidemic of horsehide fever rages here.

Not since those golden days when the Tricker-Evers-Chance combination and the swashbuckling men of John McGraw were making history with their strife and their hates has Chicago known a baseball hysteria which equals that of today.

The town has gone stark raving over those Cubs and Bill Veeck, the proxy thereof, confesses that he has gone goofy, too, trying to tell folks that the pennant hasn't been won—quite—and that requests for world series reservations will be completely ignored until the bunting is mathematically clinched.

"But it doesn't do any good," sighs Veeck. "They've already killed three or four mail carriers with their loads of orders; they are on the office phone or my house phone day and night; they send me telegrams and they waylay me on the boulevards with their requests."

"Those who think that enthusiasm over baseball has ebbed should trade jobs with me for a while. Here we are a month away from the series and we could sell out now—if we took orders. That park of ours can seat between 40,000 and 50,000, according to what arrangements we decide to make and I already have three demands for each reserved seat."

The late but not lamented depression is forgotten here; the zooming of the stock market provokes but a yawn and all other things in life have been forgotten in Chicago's fanatical pride over the Cubs which under the leadership of Charlie Grimm, came charging from a "contending position" to where they now lead the league by so huge a margin that only a catastrophe can halt them from dashing first across the championship wire.

A month ago Chicago was morose. Its hopes had, for a time, been lifted high by the unexpected springlike and mid-summer spurt of the Cubs, coupled with the collapse of the Cardinals and the dismal tactics of the Giants then the Pirates and Dodgers came along with mighty strides. Even as the Hornsby-led Cubs floundered and seemed to have gone into senility.

Hornsby passed out of the pictures and Grimm, soft spoken, gentlemanly, came in. But what of it? Grimm couldn't arouse a fighting spirit that seemed to have flickered. But Grimm did. Almost over night he transformed the athletes into a peppery, fighting legion and, as they proceeded to slaughter all opposition and move on and toward the goal of desire, Chicago reverted to the old days and went baseball crazy.

SIX ENTER HARBOR ROUGH WATER SWIM

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 29.—Six entrants, one recently from Hawaii, are so far signed up for the first annual Newport Harbor three-mile rough water swim to be held here Labor day forenoon, and four additional cups have been put up as prizes by local business establishments, to supplement the $100 in cash prizes offered to the first seven who finish.

John H. Pais, a Hawaiian employed in a Balboa cafe, is the latest to sign up. He is said to be an accomplished long-distance swimmer, but he will have some competition.

Charles Plummer, Balboa swimming instructor who knows Newport Bay from Alpha to Omega in a nautical way, is another entrant who is expected to be among the winners.

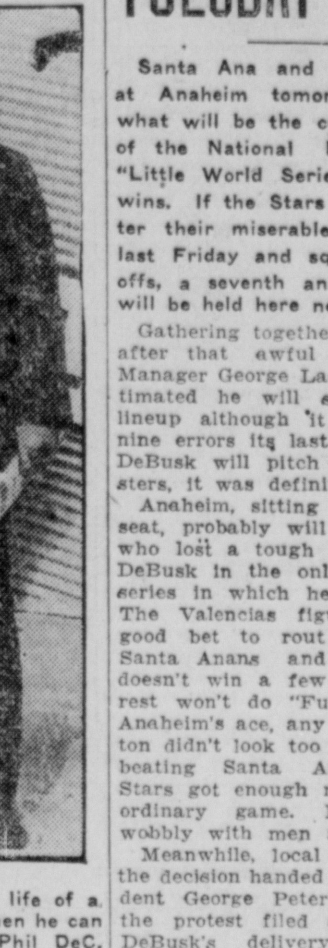

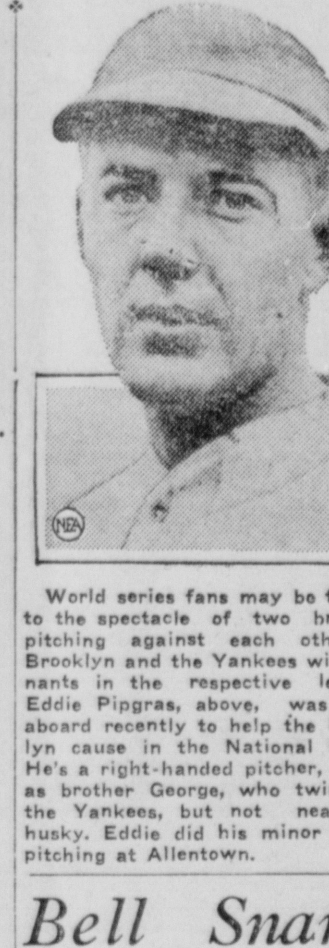

Hartley Ratey, Alhambra; two Mesa youngsters, Wayne Dye and Dave Phoenix, and Arthur "Bud" Hennicot, former Lincoln, Los Angeles, high school student, are others already in the race.

BABY CHAMPS

To Juan Carlos Zabala, the Argentine marathon runner, and Duncan McNaughton, Canadian high jumper, goes the honor of being the youngest champions in the 1932 Olympic track and field games at Los Angeles. Each is only 20 years of age.

Defending champion, medalist and winner of the Women's Western golf championships was Mrs. Opal Hill, above, of Kansas City. Mrs. Hill first won the classic in 1929. She regained the title last year, defeating Mrs. Leona Pressler, Cheney of Los Angeles. She retained it Saturday, beating Lucille Robinson, 2 and 1.

More successful than her husband in keeping the family name in the sports news is Mrs. Dorothy Weissel Hack, young wife of Stanley Hack, recruit third baseman with the Chicago Cubs. Hack has been hardly more than a bench warmer for the Cubs. Not so with Mrs. Hack, however. She has been busy all summer winning tennis championships.

HIS BACKS BEST IN LEAGUE

Kidder, Conrad, Mitchell and Stransky Regulars?

BALL CARRIERS HEFTY, FAST

(This is the second of two articles dealing with Santa Ana high school's 1932 football prospects. Today, backfield candidates—sport editor's note.)

Despite the graduation of two all-conference halfbacks, Santa Ana Hi avails the 1932 football program amply satisfied that its ball-toting department will be second to none in the Coast Preparatory league.

Even Coach "Tex" Oliver thinks the Saint backfield will be "quite good," and coming from the conservative Texan that is a real concession.

Captain "Toy" Blower, "Porky" Bell, Duane Larrabee, Max Wilson, highly efficient, men, will be absent from Hi's pigskin muster next Thursday.

They were vastly important cogs in Oliver's championship squad of 1931, and pass from view regarded as some of the finest "Red" Kidder backs ever developed here. Paradoxically, their places already have been filled by this parade of possibilities will disclose.

Captain "Red" Kidder and Quarterback Francis Conrad are the outstanding backs who hold over from the Southern California titular season.

Kidder Great Defensive Back

Kidder, fullback, will be playing his third and final season. No fullback here has ever backed up a line with more determination and ability than this hard-hitting redhead, and with a year's size and experience he should easily be the league's No. 1 man at the position. There is a bare possibility that Kidder will play fullback on offense because he is a superlative blocker, and fast and shifty enough to run off-tackle, too.

Experts concede that the sky is the limit for Conrad, a natural quarterback, who has poise, sense and skill to go with every physical requirement for his job. Last year, his first in topnotch football, Conrad revealed such amazing aptitude as a field general that someone close to "headquarters" said he didn't make a tactical error all season. He is the surest safety in Hi's football history, and this year should come close to being one of its hardest running backs, too.

Three Understudies

Conrad's understudies will be Sammy Tucker, one of the wisest boys in school who was on last year's squad; Waldo Smith, a sophomore who will be groomed for future service as well as duty this fall; and Fred Prelinger who passes well, catches punts safely, factors in and is learning to block so rapidly that he may be No. 2 behind Conrad.

Kidder, conceded the fullback station, may play fullback for another reason than that he can block and run. That reason is

World series fans may be treated to the spectacle of two brothers pitching against each other, if Brooklyn and the Yankees win pennants in the respective leagues. Eddie Piggras, above, was taken aboard recently to help the Brooklyn cause in the National league. He's a right-handed pitcher, as tall as brother George, who twirls for the Yankees, but not nearly as husky. Eddie did his minor league pitching at Allentown.

Bell Snared City Tennis Title Again

Randolph Bell still held the Santa Ana city tennis championship today, a real ruler in every sense of the word.

He came back from the brink of defeat yesterday, to beat young Lewis Wetherell, 3-6, 8-6, 12-10, in the hardest and best match he has ever played since ascending to the titular throne here in 1930. Several hundred persons watched the contest on the Frances Willard courts.

Keeping his drives near the baselines, Wetherell outclassed Bell in the first set but the champion kept pegging away, improving gradually, and when he rallied to save the match when Wetherell once had him point-set his confidence increased and he began destroying his younger adversary.

Bell led throughout the last set which followed service until the champion's sharp angle shots passed Wetherell three successive times in the deciding game.

Results leading up to the final round: White d. Lee, 6-1, 6-0; Bell d. Finster, 6-4, 6-2; Wetherell d. Park, 6-2, 7-5; Cress d. Robinson, 6-2, 6-1; Bell d. White, 6-2, 6-2; Wetherell d. Cress, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2.

Arheblide, Clarke Depart

At end, the men to be replaced this year are Garrett Arheblide, three-year regular at the right wing, and Gene Clarke, first reserve for Ray Sparling on the left side. Southern California has never had another right end who can charge into reverse and smear them up with the devastating efficiency that Arheblide displayed in the Stanford games, but the Trojans should not lose much power at this position with Ford Palmer and Ward Browning present.

Palmer played only a little football in his prep school days at Hollywood and was just an ordinary fullback, but at S. C. he has been shifted to end and has shown consistent improvement. Last year he was Arheblide's first sub and showed particular ability as a pass catcher. He weighs 184 and consequently has enough beef to do the heavy work of blocking tackles and guards on offense for the Trojan power plays that hit off the right side. He is 20 and 5 feet 11½ high.

Browning Fine Prospect

Browning, a Sioux City, Ia., boy, came to Southern California last year as a basketball star, and although he was an outstanding player on the Trojan freshman court team, it appears that it will be at football where he will gain his greatest athletic fame. Browning has grown considerably since his prep school days, and now with his 190 pounds is almost too bulky for basketball. But just right for the grid game. He is 6 feet, 1½ inches in height and his basketball training has made him a marvelous pass catcher. He is fast for his size and lacks only experience, of which Jones will see that he gets plenty, to make him a valuable man to the S. C. squad. He will be 20 September 6.

At left end the Trojans will be better fortified than they have been since the days of the stellar Francis Tappan. Ray Sparling last year starred as a fifth member of the S. C. backfield in the "Sparkling reverse" that he made famous as the outstanding ground gaining play of the 1931 season. He adds this ball carrying threat to good blocking, tackling and pass catching ability. Ray, who entered S. C. from South Pasadena at the age of 16, is one of the football squad's most brilliant students and will

A dozen or so other promising candidates will figure in the reckoning of the 1932 backfield.

Clark, White Promising Sophs

Among these are Ray Clark, a sophomore from Frances Willard who shows fine possibilities; Richard White, one of the best of the Julia Lathrop graduates; Lee Hamilton, fast and shifty, who needs only to master the art of blocking to figure as a regular; Bruce Swisshelm the fleetest boy in school who would be a threat once in the open; Calvin Breeding, impressive in sprint, practice; Major Anderson, light but fast; Bruce Harrois, Class B graduate; Perry Winchell, a well constructed prospect of 160 pounds; Harry Rock, a good blocker; and Harry Bango, who is learning fast.

This is the time of year to second-guess football coaches, so the Register's observer might pick as a regular Saint backfield: Conrad, quarter; Mitchell, left half; Kidder or Stransky, full; half; Kidder or Stransky, full.

This quartet would average about 170 pounds, and hit harder

For that reason, this is an unusual photograph of the St. Louis Browns. For that reason, this is an unusual photograph of the St. Louis Browns. He's smiling, too.

BY AL WESSON

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—Although graduation brought heavy losses to Coach Howard Jones' 1931 National championship football team at the University of California, predicting that the Trojans' peak of gridiron ability is past is a rather precarious pastime in view of the "head man's" record as a builder of great squads and the material with which he has to work during the coming season.

True, there will be no Johnny Bakers, Erny Pinkerters, Gus Shavers and Stan Williams on the Trojan eleven, but Jones has seen splendid football machines apparently wrecked by graduation in the past only to build and fit new parts that made the reconstructed machines just as strong as ever.

At end, the men to be replaced this year are Garrett Arheblide, three-year regular at the right wing, and Gene Clarke, first reserve for Ray Sparling on the left side. ## APPOINT CRAVATH ON WATER BOARD

Justice of the Peace C. C. (Gavy) Cravath has been elected a director of the Laguna Beach County Water district at a special meeting of the board of directors to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John L. Brickets, president of the district.

At the next regular meeting of the board on September 6, City Judge Montrose Lestrang, who was appointed by the Laguna Beach city council to fill Judge Cravath's place, when the latter was ousted from the recorder's bench, will report to serve as a director under appointment by Mayor J. E. Bishop.

Former Mayor Thomas A. Cummings, who was chosen president of the water board recently, said today that the question of Dr. Lestrang's appointment as a director had been referred to Col. M. B. Wellington, of Santa Ana, attorney for the water district, and that if he decided the law had been complied with that Dr. Lestrang will be welcomed as a member of the board.

The law under which Mayor Bishop appointed Judge Lestrang to the water board also provides that the board of supervisors shall make a like appointment. This never has been done. Mr. Cummings said that if the attention of the board of supervisors is called to the matter, the decision to do so will come through Colonel Wellington. If this move is carried out there will be seven directors, instead of the five that have served for the past seven years.

DIVORCE DECREES GRANTED BY JUDGE

Two divorce decrees, one to a husband and the other to a wife, were granted Friday by Superior Judge G. K. Soovel, in department three superior court.

John W. Arnold was given a divorce from his wife Mrs. Cecil Inez Arnold, when he told of his wife's temper. He said that on several occasions, when enraged, she tore his shirt off and had thrown shoes at him. He also told the court that at one time his wife bit him so severely on the arm that it was necessary for him to secure medical attention.

Arnold told the court of acts of alleged cruelty practiced by his wife upon his nine-year-old son by a former marriage. He said that on occasions she dragged the child from bed during the night to whip it and had threatened to throw him out of the house.

Mrs. Constance Hammett was granted a divorce from Harry Hammett on the grounds of non-support.

ROSS PLANT TO PREPARE WHALE MEAT FOR MARKET AS NEW FOOD PRODUCT

With installation of refrigerating machinery now under way in the recently acquired Los Alamitos plant of the Dr. W. J. Ross & Company, manufacturers of dog and cat food, Dr. Ross today revealed that his firm is making preparations to engage in a new enterprise which is expected to add to the force of employees.

The company will place whale attractive cellophane wrapping for use by humans. Installation of machinery is expected to be completed in 60 days, manufacturing operations scheduled to get under way in the old sugar company factory on December 1. The company expects to turn out 1000 cases of 48 cans each day, with between 45 and 50 men employed.

The present factory of the firm is located at Norwalk. BREA O.E.S. MEETS. BREA, Aug. 29.—Brea chapter, Order of Eastern Star, held its regular meeting Friday evening, with the following guests present: Eva H. Boyd, past grand treasurer; Blanche G. Daniels and Mae E. ## JOAN BENNETT IN MYSTERY DRAMA

Characterization, as the fundamental requisite of all entertaining pictures, was again forcefully demonstrated yesterday at Walker's State theater where Joan Bennett stood judgment for her life in "The Trial of Vivienne Ware." It is a tensely absorbing Fox mystery drama that fairly breathes the unusual in every foot of its telling.

Donald Cook, as the defense attorney, is placed in the unwelcome situation of defending his sweetheart against a murder charge which he believes in his heart she committed. Basing his attack on seemingly incontrovertible circumstantial evidence, Allan Dinehart, as the prosecuting attorney, rises to the heights of inspiration in his merciless efforts to break down Miss Bennett's defense. Skeets Gallagher races through the spontaneous characterization of a popular radio announcer. Zasu Pitts mournfully and inaccurately covers the fashions and the what-they-wore angle of the trial.

New York City consumes more milk—one pint daily per head of population—than any other city in the world. Following it are Hamburg, Germany; Copenhagen, Berlin, London and Paris.

Former Star In Vaudeville Given County Jail Term

Al Walker, 36, of 3702 Stockbridge avenue, Los Angeles, who claims to have been a high-salaried artist in vaudeville and now the victim of the theatrical depression, pleaded guilty to a charge of petty theft before City Judge Montrose Lestrang, in Laguna Beach Friday afternoon and was sentenced to serve 60 days in the county jail. Arrested with him was Edward E. Dennis, 30, 116 South Nevada, Oceanside, who likewise pleaded guilty and was given a similar sentence. They were accused of stealing a tire from an automobile owned by Mrs. Mabel Lord Frost, of Laguna Beach. Because a number of things found on the prisoners and in their automobile, including a gun, were identified as having been stolen from Oceanside, the prisoners were turned over to the chief of police of that city for further investigation.

According to Police Chief Abe T.

Johnson, he was informed by Lieut. Sanderson of the Los Angeles police force that Walker and his sister were formerly headliners on the Orpheum circuit in a dancing act. Walker and Dennis were arrested by Officer H. D. Allanson after he had seen them rolling a tire across the street and made an investigation. He found that a spare tire had been jimmied from the Frost car.

CONSTANCY IN WELL DOING IS SERMON THEME

"Constancy in Well Doing," was the subject of a sermon delivered by the Rev. G. E. Waddle, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, Sunday morning. Mr. Waddle took as his text Gal. 6:9, "And let us not be weary in well doing; for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not." He said in part:

"The Galatians had 'run well' for a while, but had been hindered through the influence of false teachers, who had turned them away from the simplicity of the gospel and from the obedience of the truth.

The burden of the message of the apostle Paul throughout this epistle is to lead them back again to the truth as it is in Christ and re-establish them in the faith of the son of God. It has been said that 'A good beginning plus a good continuance, makes a good ending.' The test of endeavor is a safe arrival, and there are always some perils to be met. Patient continuance is the one test of established character, and it is the only evidence of our being really 'rooted and grounded' in the faith of Christ. 'He that endureth to the end shall be saved,' said Jesus. How important then that we cherish our hope and never give up till we reach the goal. Patience is genius. Persistence is victory. Why then should we not encourage perseverance, because all success depends on holding out. In any department of life, success depends largely on persistence, endurance, patient continuance. It is the soldier that stands fire to the last shot that wins the victory, and only he that 'endureth to the end shall be saved.' So we are urged 'not to be weary in well doing, or in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.' It is the thought of the harvest that inspires the sower as he toils from early morn till late at night, in the arduous task of preparing his ground and sowing the seed, as well as the cultivation afterwards. It is the thought of fruit time that encourages the husbandman to endure the heat and strife of the day, as he toils and labors, patiently awaiting the time of reaping. Surely as Christian soldiers, in the service of the Master, we can not expect to do less, in the great warfare for righteousness and truth. We, too, should think of the time of reaping and push the fight to a glorious climax, but let us remember that we are to reap only, 'if we faint not.' The burden of the message of Christ, through John the revelator, was, 'Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.'"

PEOPLE OF WORLD HUNGRY FOR INSPIRED PREACHERS RADIO PASTOR DECLARES

FULLERTON, Aug. 29.—People of the world are hungry for inspired preachers, men who lift their souls to the golden gates of God helping them to bear through the week that follows the trials of the most difficult age the world has ever known, the Rev. John Matthews, pastor of the Radio Church of the Air, speaking to a capacity audience at the Fullerton Methodist church yesterday morning, said in the course of his sermon on the baptism of Jesus by John the Baptist.

The audience first heard the Rev. Mr. Matthews tell of his dream of a church of the air that will serve all humanity.

Possibility of Radio

He said that radio gives possibility to telling the gospel to all humanity, and his dream is to build such a church, as assistant to all denominations, where patrons will be inspired, through listening, to work for the welfare of their individual denominations. His radio audience now reaches from 500,000 to a million, he said, and with the enlarging of his station, KKNX, he hopes soon to reach many thousands more.

In his sermon, he explained first the nature of Matthew, who wrote the gospel, both before and after Christ touched his life, and then told of the baptism of Christ and of its meaning to the world.

"When the heavens opened, and the dove descended," he said, "the first entrance of the Spirit of God was made into the world, and rested in Jesus during His ministry. This same Spirit now abides with those who are converted, and is the power behind the great preachers and teachers of Christian truth today.

"People are hungering to hear God speak today as never before. We should insist that our preachers are converted men, getting their messages from God," he said in part.

Speaks to Children

The Rev. Mr. Matthews presented a short talk to the children, as did S. W. Windle, who presided at the service. The preacher was speaking in place of the Rev. E. Dow Hoffman, pastor, who is visiting his parents in Shell Rock, Iowa.

The Rev. T. A. Flynn was in charge of the union services of the protestant churches at the Baptist church in the evening.

At the morning hour A. L. Cook sang a solo.

Announcements were that on Thursday the West Side circle of Ladies Aid will meet at Commonwealth park at 3 p. m., with Mrs. W. C. Sterrett, Mrs. E. O. Garner, Mrs. Elizabeth Key, Mrs. J. M. Clever and Mrs. Lucy McRoud as hostesses.

On Wednesday the men's Bible class will have charge of prayer meeting. The High School league will have a picnic at Corona del Mar Friday, leaving the church at 1 p. m.

AMERICA NEEDS TRUTH OF GOD CLASS IS TOLD

What America needs today is for the people of the nation to bring back the truth of God into the hearts, the Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church, told members of the Men's Bible class at the service held yesterday morning in the West Coast theater.

"Unless this is done," he declared, "America will go down and down. In these days of political activities, we want men with the love of God in their hearts, men who are full of honesty and integrity. Let us stand with God and all evils of the world will be taken care of."

Previous to the lesson service, Mrs. L. L. Beeman, dramatic reader, read a group of poems by several different authors. It was announced by E. A. Cox, president of the class that Mrs. Beeman would present a religious drama for members of the class early next month. Logan Jackson, sheriff, will be the class speaker the second Sunday in September, it was announced.

President Cox, in a brief talk, urged members of the class to vote for men for public office who would uphold the eighteenth amendment. The importance of voting to retain the Wright act in this state was also stressed by Cox.

W. B. Martin led the song service at the meeting yesterday.

Briefly, the Rev. Buchanan continued the lessons on Hebrew law which had been started on other Sundays. "Three million people came out of Egypt without law," he told the class, "and the law was given to the Jews and not to the world. Jesus came to fulfill the law. The Jews were given the Ten Commandments but Jesus brought forth a new law. 'Love one another even as I have loved you,' he said, and gave us a law that embodied all the rest.

"If we practiced this law, it would save America. If we all loved each other, we would not covet other people's property, murder would not be committed, and all the rest of the crimes that harass the nation would not be committed.

"Jesus arose from the dead and overcame death. He said, 'I am the resurrection and the life.' He brought the truth to all nations. He came to bring salvation to all peoples of the earth."

BOYS HOLD PICNIC

PASTOR MARKS 40 YEARS IN CHURCH WORK

FULLERTON, Aug. 29.—What is the reaction of the Christian to the challenges of today, does he say, "The task is too colossal, it is impossible to face the issues?"

In answer to the question, the Rev. Frank Dowling, veteran pastor of Southern California who celebrated the fortieth anniversary of his Christian work in California yesterday, told the combined audiences of the Christian and the Presbyterian churches that "The task is impossible for man; that is why I know it can be done; with God it is impossible, but with God all things are possible."

After placing his several challenges to the church, the Rev. Mr. Dowling painted a glowing picture of the power and the possibilities of a God-inspired and God-led church.

The Rev. Mr. Dowling, pastor emeritus of the Fullerton Christian church, received many congratulations from his many friends yesterday following his sermon. He has been active in educational and religious life of the state; for a time he was trustee of Pomona College; of California Christian College and of Fullerton Union High School and Junior College. In religious circles he has been particularly interested in interdenominational and undenominational work. At one time he was president of the state association.

In considering the message yesterday, "The Challenge of the Present Crisis," the speaker mentioned the following challenges that are facing people today.

That of the deviltized and the divided church he placed first. "This divided front and scattered firing line and separated decisions and lost battalions make a united front and a massed attack impossible," he said.

The challenge of an economic debacle, with economic machinery facing reconstruction or the discard; the challenge of race discrimination and hatred, with their utter denial of the brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God; the challenge of the denial of the value of human life and the sanctity of personality; the challenge of contempt for established authority and disregard for enacted laws, even when written into the Constitution of such a nation as the United States of America;

"The challenge of a war obsessed world, with war psychology still prevailing in the councils of the nations, with slight respect for the treaty renouncing war as a national policy, with more men under arms than at the beginning of the world war and with constantly increasing military budgets including our own 85 percent of our taxes going to the support of war past and anticipated.

"The challenge of an unevangelized world twenty centuries after the giving of the great commission, all these challenges can be answered if Christians act on the fact that 'with God all things are possible,'" he declared.

DEPRESSION IS DISCUSSED AT BREA CHURCH

BREA, Aug. 29.—F. H. Kuhns, M. D. and Bible teacher filled the Brea Baptist church pulpit, of Rev. B. H. Blancher, pastor, Sunday August 28. Mr. Kuhns spoke principally on "Depression of the present day and some causes," taking for his text Mathew 11:28, "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest."

He said in part, "No one before or since that time has uttered such words as our Savior. No one could make such a statement and fulfill it. My great grandfather, a minister, went among the people on horseback. No one worried then about depression. In those days girls were willing to help young men get a start. A story is told of a young man wanting to get married, who had no money but offered the minister some dried apples in payment for the wedding. The girl had dried the apples.

"There are plenty of people now at beaches with automobiles. Prosperity has drawn them away from God. When depression came did they go to Christ? No, many of them jumped from a window or hanged themselves. No Christians do these things. The whole world is restless and Satan is busier than he has been for a long while. His satellites are very busy indeed today. People seem demon-possessed all over the world.

"All are looking for a great leader. We never had so much money in banks nor so much food. Peaches are being sold in places for five cents a lug. So much food and never so many hungry people. God has permitted this depression to draw us to him.

"Do couples who both know Jesus Christ have troubles so prevalent today and get divorces?"

Gideon Worker Speaker At Church Here

Filling the pulpit of the First Baptist church yesterday, A. W. Bourne told of the work being accomplished by the Gideon society. It is this society that distributes Bibles in hotel rooms and has done a religious work among travelers.

In his talk yesterday Bourne told the congregation of his 35 years on the road and spoke of the old type traveling man who thought it necessary to buy his customer a drink in order to sell his goods. He told a number of his own experiences and how the traveling salesman has changed to the efficient business man of today.

The work of the Gideons was outlined and he told of testimonials received by that organization from travelers who were saved from suicide or sin through reading a Gideon Bible.

How many women who have evening devotions with their husbands are going astray? Money leads so many from God. What has caused all this unrest on earth today?

"Is the 'Red' program the cause? Note the action all over the United States. The first is the destruction of religion, another is trying to destroy the banking system. This is all over the world. Our rich men help this along by their selfishness. The 'Red' danger is not in the slums but in many American colleges. Infidel men and women are poisoning the young minds. Twenty thousand people in the United States committed suicide during the past year, educated and uneducated and many of them were children.

"We do not have faith enough in God. Do not pray for more faith, but use the faith you have and more will come. Faith grows with use."

COTTAGE PRAYER MEETS TOMORROW

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christ Jesus" was the subject of the lesson-sermon yesterday at the Santa Ana First Church of Christ, Scientist.

Among the Scriptural citations were the verses from Luke: "And John calling unto him two of his disciples sent them to Jesus, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another? When the men were come unto him, they said, John Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another? And in that same hour he cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of evil spirits; and unto many that were blind he gave sight."

A passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, stated: "Jesus sent a message to John the Baptist, which was intended to prove beyond a question that the Christ had come: 'Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel is preached.' In other words: Tell John what the demonstration of divine power is, and he will at once perceive that God is the power in the Messianic work."

Sherry-Bowe Nuptials Solemnized Sunday At Costa Mesa

Mr. and Mrs. George Sherry have departed on their honeymoon, following their wedding Sunday afternoon in the Costa Mesa community church. On their return to Costa Mesa after September first the newlyweds will establish a home in that city, where both are well known.

The bride was formerly Miss Mildred Alyce Rowe, daughter of Mrs. Leone Rowe of 427 Balboa avenue, Costa Mesa. For the wedding ceremony she was attired in a white satin princess gown. Her veil and cap were of princess lace and were caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas and lilies of the valley.

Lauraine Rowe gave his sister in marriage, the Rev. J. S. Norvell of South Pasadena performing the ceremony. The beautiful chapel was lavishly decorated with palms and a profusion of dahlias. At the center of the altar, against a background of midnight blue velvet hangings, stood an immense bowl of red dahlias, on either side of which stood candelabra with tall burning tapers. Other candles and greenery completed the decorations.

The bride's sister, Miss Hollie Rowe, made a charming bridesmaid in a turquoise blue gown and pearls, and carried a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas. Mrs. Lauraine Rowe served as matron of honor, wearing a salmon crepe gown and crystals and carrying a shower bouquet of sweet peas. The groom was attended by Robert L. Spicer, of Los Angeles. The ring bearer was little Harry Rowe. The three little flower girls, Elizabeth Rowe, Betty Jeanne Stevens and Barbara Rhors, wore dainty organza frocks in pastel shades. Ushers were R. Earl Elliott of Santa Ana and E. L. Bennett of Costa Mesa.

Mrs. Ruth Swanson Lykko of Santa Ana sang "Lichtstrahlen," by Liszt, Charles Hill of Orange sang "Holy Art Thou," from Handel's Largo. Miss Mildred, Marchant accompanied the singers and the organ and played the wedding march.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home for about 50 guests.

Pink and White Theme Used at Evening Shower

Mrs. Robert Welsh was hostess at a charming affair Friday evening when she entertained in her home, 526 North McClay street, as a compliment to Mrs. William E. Cummings, of 1702 West Ninth street.

An appropriate setting for the enjoyable evening was afforded by many bouquets of baby sinias in tints of pink, combined with white oleanders. Tallies distributed for bridge play were pretty studies in pink and white. They were checked at the close of the evening to reveal Mrs. Herbert Klotz high scorer, and Mrs. Cummings, low.

After attractive prizes had been awarded Mrs. Cummings was presented with the many dainty gifts provided by her friends. They had been placed in a lovely basket which held place of honor on the prettily decorated dining room table.

At midnight Mrs. Welsh served a delicious two-course supper with Mrs. Klotz, her sister-in-law, assisting. The card tables utilized at this time were spread with white linens and appointed with pink glassware. Nut cups and other decorative details were in keeping with the pink and white theme.

Those invited to share the event with Mrs. Welsh and Mrs. Cummings were Mesdames Edward E. Wells, Fullerton; Irving Panstell, Laguna Beach; Earl W. Phillips, Robert Phillips, Herbert Issett, Otis Miller, Orange; Alice Anthony, Huntington Park; Wilfred Hayes, Tustin; Herbert Klotz, John O'Brien and Carl Ingelman, Santa Ana.

Why The Hostess Is Served First

Customs and conventions are funny things, aren't they? Brought into being to enhance safety and life, many of these customs have lost their original meaning and become a conventional gesture.

An example of this is the custom of the hostess being served first at formal dinner party or luncheon; this originated back in the days when hosts used to slip a hatted guest a gentle dose of poison at dinner to square accounts. Too many guests were making their exit and it became the order of the day for the host to eat first to show the guest that his life was safe for the moment.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Melon Ring Salad
6 thick rings of melon.
6 slices canned pineapple
1 package cream cheese
2 tablespoons whipped cream.
Seasonings of paprika and white pepper, dash of salt.
Hearts of lettuce for garnish.
Fruit mayonnaise dressing.
This would not be just the salad for dinner, but it is ideal for any sort of luncheon, home or even the fairly formal type. Served with toasted rolls and coffee, dessert would be unnecessary.

And those toasted rolls! For this salad buy some of those long soft rolls used for "hot dogs." Tear them apart, butter generously and spread with grated soft cheese. Slip them under the broiler to quickly toast and brown the cheese.

I think for six servings you will need two good sized melons, those having aldermanic proportions around their circumference. Cut slices about three-fourths of an inch thick from the centers of the melons until you have six of them. Peel the rinds, remove seeds and put them in the refrigerator to chill.

Open a can of pineapple slices, and drain enough to make six rings. Mash up the cream cheese, season it sharply, add the whipped cream and beat to a fluff. Take up a ring of pineapple, wipe it dry, spread thickly with the cheese mixture and when all are so decorated set them under the ice chamber to chill the cheese.

All this preparation should be done hours before, of course, so that only the assembling of the salad need be left for the last minute.

Arrange lettuce heart leaves on salad plates so that they form the spokes of a wheel. Place a melon ring on the lettuce and fill the center with the cheese-frosted pineapple, quickly diced at the last moment. Pour over a mayonnaise thinned with plenty of lemon and pineapple juice, then fluffed with a little whipped cream beaten into it.

Again let me stress this fact: have the melon and pineapple ready a sufficient length of time to chill thoroughly, and let the mixing and serving be done not more than 10 minutes before the salad is served.

A salad of this type will be worth about 200 calories per portion. We need concern ourselves only with the calories found in the salad dressing and cheese—they are energy and fat-makers.

SWEET PICKLES, the current leaflet, is ready for those who want it. Send only a stamped, self-addressed envelope this week, the leaflet is offered free of charge.

Setting for Reception Provided by Indoor Garden

An improvised flower garden consisting of great quantities of bright-hued flowers, ferns and much greenery, decked the Pythian hall Friday night when a reception honoring a group of Santa Ana's department officers of the Sons and Daughters of Union Veterans, was given. Sons and Daughters of Veterans of this city joined in entertaining.

Honored guests included Mrs. Lena Hewitt, president of the local tent and department chief of staff; C. F. Miller, department chaplain for the sons, and E. J. Parker, department organizer for the sons. For the occasion Mrs. Hewitt was crowned in helms trimmed in blue and wore a corsage of deep pink rosebuds. Members of the Past Presidents club, Daughters of Veterans, were on the reception committee.

The charming decorative effect had been achieved under the direction of Mrs. Perry Groat, whose committee included Mesdames Cyrus Lurker, Cora Torrens, Helen McPherson, Minnie Cowan, Margaret Robertson, members of the tent, and Viola Andres, a friend of Mrs. Groat.

Great sheafs of golden glow were arranged in tall baskets as the predominating flowers in the garden. Other flowers and ferns twined about an improvised trellis, with tall palms and banana trees providing a background for the floral appointments. Entering the hall was a square formed of garden benches, which were grouped around a central bower of flowers and greenery. Dahlias, zinnias and other blossoms were massed about the hall. Giving a final garden effect to the scene were canary birds, whose cages hung throughout the room.

Among those attending the affair as special guests were other department officers. They were Mesdames Emma Strain of Los Angeles, department inspector; Edna Wadsworth of Glendora, department councillor; Margaret French of Los Angeles, department color bearer No. 1; Mary Holben of Long Beach, department color bearer No. 2; Mrs. Monte Porter of Fullerton, department color bearer No. 3; Dr. Ralph R. Barrett of Huntington Park, department senior vice commander of the Sons; Fred Dunster of Los Angeles, department inspector, and many other out of town guests.

The program given included piano solos by Olive Schweitzer, a pupil of Miss Leonora Tompkins; readings by Miss Lois Cromwell of Chicago, a guest in the J. B. Smith home; readings by Baxter Goetting, readings by George Hart, a pupil of Miss Mary Blackman; Miss Blackman also gave readings.

Mrs. Perry Groat was chairman of the reception committee and was assisted by Mrs. Roy Beall. Refreshments of punch and wafers were served under the direction of Mrs. E. A. Bell, Mrs. R. Deane Smiley, Florence Dunn and Beren Baker. Mrs. Smiley and Mrs. Bell presided at the punch bowl. The refreshments were dispensed from a large table, softly lighted with tall tapers.

Sons of Veterans who gave special assistance in carrying out plans for the affair included a committee of W. I. Davis, chairman; C. E. Brayton and S. L. Carpenter.

Official Visit Made Here By District Deputy

The official visit of the district deputy, Mrs. Marie Faulkner of Westminster, was the occasion for a program of unusual interest Saturday night at the meeting of Santa Ana's department officers of the Sons and Daughters of Union Veterans, held in the I. O. O. F. hall. Mrs. Faulkner was accompanied by her district marshal, Mrs. Mae Manspinger, and by a group of lodge members from her home city.

The program followed the regular business session and had been planned by Mrs. H. T. Jones, program chairman, and Mrs. Eugene Heiss, noble grand. Mrs. Sidney Babcock and her Orange County Kill Willies presented the entertainment, giving a program of special dance numbers and old time musical selections.

Discuss Rebekah Work
Mrs. Heiss was in charge of the business session. Mrs. Jennie Crawford was installed as right supporter to the vice grand, with Mrs. Faulkner officiating. Following, the district deputy gave an informative talk on the work of the Rebekah degree.

During the evening members honored Mrs. Jack Taylor by presenting her with a lovely bouquet of flowers. She and Mr. Taylor have just celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary.

At the request of the grand lodge, an appointment to the grand lodge publicity committee was made with Mrs. H. T. Jones named to fill the office for the month of September. Announcement was made that the organization would have a radio broadcast September 10 and 24 over station KTAB from 8 to 8:30 o'clock in the interests of the Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges.

Supper Follows Program
After the program the group adjourned to the dining room, where all was in readiness for the serving of ice cream and angel food cake with coffee. Mrs. Annie Arnold and her committee had made arrangements for this feature. A pink, green and white motif was carried out through the use of choice sweet peas and chalcidines, arranged with greenery. Tables were decked with pink streamers and lighted with tall white candles in rosebud holders. The department officers and other special guests were seated at a central table with officers of the local lodge.

Announcement was made that the next meeting would be held Saturday evening, September 10, when a lady party will be held. All attending are asked to dress appropriately and to bring a white elephant.

Tea at Irvine Home Precedes Hosts' Trip North

Prior to their departure for their San Francisco home, where they expect to be established within the next ten days, Mr. and Mrs. James Irvine entertained yesterday for a number of old acquaintances at a tea given in the Irvine ranch residence near this city.

More than half a hundred friends were bidden to the affair at which guests had an opportunity to greet Miss Katherine Lillard, granddaughter of Mr. Irvine, as well as their hosts.

Appointments were of especial charm, a centerpiece of silver fruit flanked by bowls of ruffled petunias in tints of pink gracing a central table in the spacious sun parlor, from which tea dishes were served.

Guests passed a pleasantly informal afternoon during the course of the tea, taking advantage of the occasion to proffer their good wishes in the Irvine's behalf until the couple should again return south.

Miss Boyle entered the university this fall for her freshman year, having graduated from the Santa Ana high school last spring. Miss Boyle will have as a sorority sister in her new home Miss Armine Crawford, daughter of Mrs. A. C. Crawford, 110 Roe drive, this city, who is in her sophomore year on the Berkeley campus.

Miss Elsie Siemsen, Miss Charlotte Harnois and Miss Pansy Oliphant joined in giving the affair for Mrs. McCoy, who will be remembered as Miss Blanche Thompson.

Brightened with bouquets of asters in soft pastel tints, the home afforded a charming setting for the evening of bridge. Winners of the desirable prize awards were Miss Frances Dunstan, who scored high and Mrs. Chester Bratsch, low.

During the evening Mrs. McCoy was called to answer the doorbell at two different times. The first was at 9 o'clock when a messenger brought her a lovely garden corsage from her hostesses. When she answered the second time she was presented with the linen shower gifts selected for her by the group of friends.

Following the card games the hostess served a delicious menu, with Mrs. Siemsen assisting at this time. The bride's table was especially lovely, spread with snowy linen and centered with wedding bell blossoms. ## DRAMAS OF MARRIED LIFE

by Eva Greely

"And once I thought my husband didn't care for me" says Ann

"I CAN see it all so plainly now," says this delighted young woman. "My husband thought that I was a typical 'stay-at-home'—because most of the time when he wanted to go out I was too tired to budge."

"I would have loved to go out with him, but washday just about used up all my energy. But that's all behind me now. A friend told me about Rinso, how it soaks clothes as clean and white as snow, without any hard scrubbing. I've been using it ever since, and my husband can't get over how fresh and rested I am even on washdays."

Rinso saves time and work for millions of women every washday. Cup for cup, this famous "no-work" soap gives twice as much suds as lightweight, puffed-up soaps—even in hardest water.

Saves clothes—saves hands
Rinso is safe for your finest cottons and linens—white or colors. That's why it is recommended by the makers of 40 leading washing machines. And Rinso suds are so easy on the hands—they don't get that red, washworn look. That's why millions of women will use nothing else for dishwashing. Grease disappears, as if by magic, in these creamy Rinso suds. Get the BIG package of Rinso today. It's economical—a little goes so far.

VISITOR GIVES TALK SUNDAY IN EL MODENA

EL MODENA, Aug. 29.—The sermon at Friends church Sunday morning was preached by the Rev. H. S. Wannamaker, of Cusick, Wash., who with Mrs. Wannamaker is visiting their daughter, Miss Phyllis Wannamaker, El Modena. Americanization Superintendent. The Rev. Mr. Wannamaker said in part:

"I want to speak to you this morning on two verses found in the book of Ezekiel, the first chapter, and the latter part of the 23rd verse, and the first verse of the second chapter.—(And when I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake, And he said unto me, Son of man, stand upon thy feet, and I will speak unto thee.)

"Those of you who are familiar with the book of Ezekiel know that it is a modern book and yet very ancient, it is so simple that its simplicity is beyond our understanding. This was a time when Israel had been very prosperous. And in their season of prosperity they had become very worldly, for then, as now, it was dangerous to have prosperity. It had become necessary for God to bring them out of their worldliness. A select number of young people were taken captive; they were prominent, and among them was a wealthy young man named Ezekiel. He was a man of remarkable culture and insight among them, and he was taken down to Babylon and put in wholly different circumstances from any he had previously enjoyed.

"In the midst of these trials he began to meditate. He was about 21 or 22 years old, and while he was meditating there came visions of the past and of the future that day. God came to him and told him that the temple still stood, but during the vision he told him the walls of Jerusalem should be broken down, and that everything you attach importance to will be scattered to the winds; he heard a mighty whirlwind and saw the clouds boil up, the lightnings flashed and the storm increased, and as he stood and watched it there appeared four men, with the countenance of a man, a stranger. This was a composite picture with three distinct countenances; on the right was the head of a lion, on the left the head of an ox, and above the head of an eagle. These were all surrounded by

NEED OF VOTES IS STRESSED BY SEN. EDWARDS

ORANGE, Aug. 29.—Reminding his audience that the Santa Ana Register has a large circulation and declaring that it is a good paper, "If they would keep their bills out of other people's business," Senator Nels T. Edwards in a talk delivered at the plaza Saturday night, stressed the need of voters going to the polls Tuesday, in order to insure his nomination as state senator.

In an introductory talk, Judge Frank C. Drumm told the audience that those seeking to secure the nomination of Edwards' opponent were sparing neither effort or money to send him to the senate. Judge L. F. Coburn gave the first talk of the evening, an eulogy to Senator Edwards in which he declared that Edwards should have been elected to Congress. The three speakers used as a platform a truck which was placed before the Chamber of Commerce office.

"We are not expecting to defeat Edwards' opponent because of his weakness or because he is bad, but because Nels Edwards is the better man," said Drumm, who declared that the opposition forces had stooped to things which had made the campaign a bitter one. One of the highest compliments the opposition has paid Edwards, said Drumm, is that they have failed to find in his record anything which would vilify or disgrace him in spite of diligent efforts. They have been unable to find anything against him, said the speaker, so they say he is a member of a political ring.

"If a man like Edwards has to go through such a campaign as he has gone through, I don't know what the country is coming to," said the speaker. "You say his election is assured. Don't be too sure. This year is not an ordinary one and things over which Edwards had no control might work against him."

In opening his address, Senator Edwards said, "the campaign is getting cooler, the weather is cooler and the Register is a little cooler this evening." He reminded those present that the campaign was nearly over and that he really wanted their votes Tuesday.

"My opponent," said Edwards, will receive a large vote in Santa Ana and the only hope I have is Orange, although I think my vote in Santa Ana will be pretty good. If you feel that I am qualified for the job, come out on Tuesday. I have received lots of abuse, J. F. Burke of Santa Ana has it in for me, because I won't do what he wants me to."

Edwards referred to what he termed an attack by a "political bootlegger" named Vye against whom, he said he could not file a suit for libel because Vye had nothing.

Edwards told of his reply to questions asked by Clyde Downing, his opponent in the race for the nomination of state senator. "You know about my reply to those charges at a meeting of the Orange Rotary club and you know what the Register said about it and how dirty it was," he said.

Edwards said that he had voted for the Sharkey bill because he thought at that time it was the proper thing to do and that the people of Southern California wanted it.

"Which is the worse, the senator asked, 'to vote for a thing you think is right or to claim to be against it and to campaign in the interest of the people, then to go around with a hand out to the oil companies.' Edwards said that his opponent had not denied that this was a fact and that the statement had not been denied in the Santa Ana Register.

On a gambling bill, Edwards said that he had voted "yes" but had been voting against the measure. His opponent had claimed that he could not represent the common people, because he is a banker, said Edwards, as he declared that Clyde Downing was a director and an organizer of the Commercial National bank of Santa Ana as well as the bank's attorney and is connected with the South-West Building and Loan association as well as another company.

"There are those who would lead you to believe that I voted for the loan shark bill. Not only did I not vote for this measure but I voted for an amendment for first a 24 per cent rate and then a 12 per cent rate, said Edwards.

'PASTOR AND PEOPLE' TOPIC OF REV. BLUNT

ORANGE, Aug. 29.—"The Pastor and His People" was the topic chosen by the Rev. J. R. Blunt, acting pastor of the First Christian church, yesterday in preaching the final sermon of his supply pastorate here. The pastor said that after having held six successful pastorates, conducting 23 personal evangelistic campaigns, he felt that he had first hand information on the topic.

"We need not expect to find perfection in either pastor or congregation," said the speaker. "All perfect people are dead. I have found in the congregation of the First Christian church a very happy situation."

"The pastor of your church the Rev. Franklin H. Minck, is honored and respected by every one in the community with whom I have talked and is dearly loved by his congregation. The fact that the work has held up so well during the pastor's absence is a good test. With such love and loyalty this congregation should go forward to larger and better things in the future."

"In a general way, the success of the work of any church depends not a little on the pastor and the people being wisely and happily married. They should enter their service with the thought that each is to see how much can be contributed on the part of both pastor and people to the good of the work, all being willing to give their best, to bear and forbear, to love and serve the Master of us all. When a church is calling a minister, it should decide the nature of the work that the minister is to do, and try to find a man who has been successful in that type of work."

"The minister has a power in the community that few other men have. His very presence is often a rebuke to sinful and low talk."

The minister represents a powerful institution, when he ministers in the church of the Lord Jesus Christ. The individual does his best work through organization. It has been said that God at his best is love, love at its best is cooperation in the spirit of a true sport. The church is greater than any political party, any human organization, in the world. The church was born in the heart of God and is backed by the promises that her forces will finally overcome all opposing forces in the world and Christ shall reign triumphantly over sin and evil."

The widest ranging animals on the North American continent are the muskrat and raccoon, each being found in 47 states. The former is not found in Florida and the latter shuns Montana.

NEVER HAS THE SCREEN DARED TO REVEAL SO STRANGE A STORY!

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The monkey train had just one car. It didn't travel very far, but circled round a little track that crossed a big ravine.

As Duncy sat up in the front, he said, "That is a clever stunt, but look below us. Gee, it's deep. For that I'm not so keen."

"The little train might leave the track and then we'd all go down, kersmack. The ride itself is fun, but I'll be glad when it's over."

Then Scouty said, "Say, where's your pluck? You're always looking for bad luck. If you don't like this railroad, please don't ride it any more."

Just then the monkey engineer exclaimed, "Look out! We're coming near a funny little tunnel that is dark as night inside."

"The darkness, though, won't hurt one bit. We'll safely travel right through it. I hope you won't be sorry that you joined me on this ride."

"Of course we won't," said Scouty. "We are just as happy as can be. We'll stick until the end because, you know, we never quit. "It's strange that you don't think we shirk by letting you do all the work. You run the little engine while we Tinies simply sit."

At last they reached the depot. Then they thanked the engineer again. "Oh, that's all right," he answered. "It was fun to take you out."

"And now that this short run is through, I'll tell you what you ought to do. Try riding on a hand-car and you'll have some fun, no doubt."

They found the hand-car near at hand. Said one, "We'll now leave Monkey Land. Each one of us must pump real hard. At least we all can try."

And then the Tinies hopped aboard. "We're off," wee Windy loudly roared. And, as they moved away, one of the monkeys waved goodbye.

(The Tinies run into a big surprise in the next story.)

DOROTHY MAY OF YORBA LINDA BECOMES BRIDE

YORBA LINDA, Aug. 29.—At a simple but impressive ceremony yesterday at two o'clock in the afternoon in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer May, citrus avenue, Miss Dorothy May became the bride of A. Norman Ilopand, of Santa Barbara, with the Rev. Crawford Trotter, pastor of the Methodist church, reading the single ring ceremony.

Standing with the young people were Mr. and Mrs. James Hudson, sister of the bride, and her husband.

The ceremony was read before the flower-banked fire place of the family home with a group of close relatives witnessing it.

The bride was dressed in a fuchsia and white crepe ensemble, with dark accessories, the dress she wore when they started soon after the ceremony on their wedding trip. She carried a bridal bouquet of roses. The matron of honor wore a simple blue and white sport ensemble.

After the ceremony, Mrs. May, assisted by another daughter, Dorcas, and by Capota Neely, served refreshments at an informal reception, where a beautiful wedding cake was cut by the bride. Immediately following, the bride and the bridegroom left for their trip.

Attending the wedding and reception were those of the wedding party, Mrs. Trotter, Donald Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. May and Dorcas May and Homer and Gilbert May and Mr. and Mrs. Orelle Siefert and Frederick Siefert.

The young couple will reside in Santa Barbara, where he is in business and where she will continue her work at teachers' college, where she has attended two years, planning to teach physical education.

Mrs. Hopland is well known in Northern Orange county. She graduated from the Yorba Linda grammar schools and from the Fullerton Union High school and the Junior college. After finishing junior college at Santa Barbara, she spent two winters at Santa Barbara. The bridegroom is a native of North Dakota.

'Last Days' Sunday Topic In Placentia

PLACENTIA, Aug. 29.—Returning after a three weeks vacation at Bluff Lake, the Rev. Charles E. Fuller preached both hours at his church, the Calvary, Placentia, yesterday.

At the evening hour the church was filled to hear him talk on "The Last Days," and he described the period we are living in now as that described by the prophets of old as the last days before the second advent of Jesus Christ.

The Rev. Mr. Fuller announced that the Rev. Dr. William Matthews, president of the Los Angeles Baptist seminary, will preach both hours next Sunday, and that he will begin his regular ministry again a week from Thursday with the regular Thursday Bible school radio hour, at 8 p. m., over KGER.

Another announcement was that in February, the trustees of the church plan to have Mel Trotter, famous mission worker, at Placentia in a series of evangelistic meetings.

On Wednesday, Dr. Milligan will have charge of prayer meeting and will bring another message on the seven churches of Revelation.

IMPROVEMENTS BEGIN SOON ON WATER SYSTEM

SAN CLEMENTE, Aug. 29.—Work on the $60,000 improvement of the Spanish village water system will start within two weeks. The city council's special committee on the purchase of 12, six and four inch mains for the system has accepted a contract with the U. S. Pipe and Foundry company for the delivery of 4,375 feet of 12 inch pipe, 16,800 feet of six inch pipe and for 50,000 feet of four inch pipe. The contract will mean the expenditure of around $25,000 by the city. Delivery of the pipe will start immediately.

The council at its meeting of the whole on Friday afternoon recommended the rejection of all bids for pipe. At the evening meeting of the council the following committee was appointed by Mayor Thomas F. Murphy to deal directly with company representatives in the purchase of pipe: Robert C. Plume, commissioner of water and light; Hamilton H. Cotton, commissioner of finance; Jimmy Bennett, supervisor of public works, and W. A. Ayer, city engineer. It was this committee that closed the deal with the U. S. Pipe and Foundry company. It is said that the individual deal meant a saving to the city of several thousands of dollars.

Commissioner Plume says that work should start within two weeks on the system. The city has contracted with Dan Mulholland for the laying of the system at so much a foot. Mulholland will use the same labor in the work and will start as soon as City Engineer Ayer delivers to him the plans for the system.

The Rensselaer Valve Company of Los Angeles, secured the contract for the installation of the six and 12 inch valves. The Crane company was the successful bidder on the valves for the four-inch mains.

W. A. Ayer estimates that the laying of the new system will take at least four months. It is thought that work will begin on the four inch mains first, then the six inch and the 12 inch last.

The council voted to purchase two trucks at a cost of $12,000. The trucks, a one and a half ton and a half ton, will be delivered by the George Dunton company, Santa Ana. The company has taken the two old trucks on the deal for the new. The purchase was made after being recommended by the installation committee: Oliver Robertson, commissioner of streets; Robert Plume, commissioner of water and light, and the superintendent of public works, Jimmy Bennett.

Refunding bonds to the amount of $14,500 issued by the city of San Clemente have been purchased by the Anglo-London-Paris company, San Francisco. The contract called for the purchase of the bonds at par plus accrued interest. Hamilton H. Cotton, commissioner of finance, made the announcement of the purchase.

All the bonds of the city and the San Clemente grammar school district have been purchased by the Anglo-London-Paris Company, some at a premium.

UNION CHURCH SERVICES COME TO END IN LA HABRA

LA HABRA, Aug. 29.—Closing the summer union meetings, church members of La Habra met Sunday evening at the Methodist church, with the services under the direction of the Federated brotherhood.

Gustave Schneider, field secretary of the State Federated brotherhood, was the speaker and his subject was "Whither Mankind." Conditions today have been brought about, he said, by the series of forward movements, the machine age, the master genius of science, mass production and all have tended to speed up life and have created a desire to get as much done and as much manufactured as possible, until today we have a high strung, nervous generation. Much of the trouble of today is blamed on the World War but our trouble started before the war, when we forgot God in our anxiety for speed, power and power, he declared.

"The solution lies in the hands of the church of Jesus Christ," Schneider said. "We as a nation must stop and think; spiritual values must be thrown into our lives."

He spoke of the Bible as the best seller, with 12,000,000 more copies sold this year than ever before, yet this best seller is often tucked away in the home and not read. In the Bible, he said, is the solution to any problem facing mankind.

Leaving on Wednesday's boat this week will be Murry Brophy, president of Otto G. Wiley and company, realty developers in Balboa and other Southern California communities. Otto G. Wiley himself has been in the South Seas with his yacht, the Katana, for two years. Patterson took a trip on the yacht to Moorea island, 19 miles from Papeete, during his vacation.

Patterson and Rousseau are slated to speak about their trips at the weekly luncheon of the Newport Harbor Service club Wednesday noon.

The thing that strikes an American business man in Tahiti, said the local travelers, is the utter simplicity and carefree abandon of the natives while business also to grip the visitors, no matter how much of a "go-getter" he may be in the highly "civilized" places. There are no electric cars, very few autos, no hustle and bustle of any sort—not even the art galleries which one would see in even the quietest places in Europe. In Tahiti, there is nature's art gallery before one all the time.

"A visit to Tahiti," Rousseau said, "gives one a complete change. It's restful and peaceful and of course both the sea voyage and the stay there are healthful. There is bound to be increased travel there, and in time it may become 'progressive' and therefore spoiled."

HAPPY IT'S OVER; WILL REMAIN STEADFAST

We are glad that the primaries end today. The Register determined that it would not come out on individual candidates, and it has been adhering to that as closely as conditions would permit.

It has emphasized principles, and those principles are well-known.

We are going to stand for these after the primary, the same as before, regardless of whom is nominated on any party ticket.

We have been forced, in self-defense, and in defense of these principles, to point out the recommendations of others in some cases. But we call our readers to witness that we have not been personal in our editorial columns. In our news columns, we have printed what the candidates have said, and we have been endeavoring to further the principles which are at our mast-head.

It does appear sometimes that it is lese majesté for an ordinary man to come out and run for public office, who represents the principles that this paper is espousing. But we insist on this right, and we know the people will sustain us in it.

Vote independently tomorrow!

Note for the protection of right governmental principles!

Vote for candidates who will recognize themselves as your servants; who do not believe in doing things in secret, and who are interested in the problems that confront all of us!

A FINAL WORD TO THE "DRY" VOTERS

In the midst of a campaign, such as we have been passing through, it is very difficult for many people to keep their heads, and to vote as they will wish they had voted after the primaries are over, and in the cool, calm days of reflection that follow.

The only way that the cause of the 18th Amendment and of prohibition, law enforcement and good government generally, can be advanced is by supporting those men who are thoroughly in sympathy with it.

There are those who are thoroughly wedded to the principles of prohibition and enforcement of law, and who are guided unerringly by this. There are those who, in a general way, are for prohibition, if it doesn't interfere with the candidates that they want to support.

We have some striking incidents of this class of people in Orange county,—men who declare themselves for prohibition, and yet are advising people to vote for candidates who are absolutely "wet," and whom the Board of Strategy is opposed to. And they begin with Senator Shortridge, as a rule. We would urge the prohibition voters to be sure to adhere to the candidates who are absolutely dependable, for the value it will be to the cause itself.

The Register believes in this issue most profoundly, and it knows that the only way that we can establish any law or Constitution is by those who believe in it, and are doing their best to bring it about. Vote for the candidates who are dependable upon this issue.

VOTE TOMORROW

Whatever may be your judgment upon candidates, we earnestly urge you to go to the polls and vote tomorrow.

The only way that democracy can function is through its individual units. There are always those who are perfectly willing to usurp the power of other people. But on Primary Day, the people themselves have the opportunity to give expression to their will, and vote for the candidates whom they believe most nearly represent their views in government.

Nothing is gained by staying away from the polls. You may make mistakes and vote wrong, but do the best you can, and learn through reading and informing yourself in every way possible, who are the best candidates.

Many of you will be following advice. Follow the advice of those whom you believe are interested primarily in good government. We are going to live here all together after the primaries. And we want to have the best there is in governmental life emphasized.

Do not be stampeded! Last minute circulars gotten out, should be scrutinized with great care, and after such scrutiny, it may be you will want to vote exactly opposite from the manner in which suggestions are made.

But however you vote, vote. Do your part.

A FINAL WORD TO THE UNEMPLOYED

The Register speaks to you without apology. In season, and out of season, The Register has stood for the interests of the ordinary citizen. There have been those who have been indifferent to your needs, and who have tried to injure The Register for taking the position on your behalf.

We ask you in voting as citizens tomorrow, to vote for those candidates who can be depended upon to be in sympathy with you and your needs, after the primaries and after election, as well as before.

Do not be misled by gifts, donations, promises or the personal work of men, unless it be that this is the expression of their heart and convictions, and not simply for votes.

If you believe The Register is your friend, and has been endeavoring to stand for a square deal, support those candidates whom you know are in sympathy with its program. If you feel this is not the case, do not do so.

But vote independently as citizens, in the interest of yourself, and keeping the taxpayers as well in mind.

Do not let "politics," as such, injure your organization.

"Who Killed Cock Robin?" or the Death of "Political Ring"

Orange County News

"Political Ring" is dying. Stretched out on the great, golden public bed he is gasping his last. His big strong body has wasted away and he looks gaunt and bony. The mourners—relatives, friends, servants and just plain hangers on wall in anguish as he expired. Some stand by silently. What a gloomy setting.

Great old "Ring" gone—easy jobs—good old "Ring"—little work—liberal old "Ring"—good pay—blessed be the bones. Unhappy future—working for a living—struggling as others struggle—having to produce the "goods" to stay on the job—unhappy future—was is us—cruel, cruel fate—gone—good old "Ring."

"Why does he die?" asks a Favored one.

"He's been ailing for some time," answered Easy Job.

"Maybe Burke shot him. Have they examined the body for wounds?" asks Legal Advertising. "I'll bet Burke shot him."

"Yes, we examined the body," says Soft Appointment, "and there are no wounds. He just wasted away. They do say though that Burke caused him to lose heart."

"Probably it was Irvine," suggests Newspaper Propaganda. "Let's try to hang it on Irvine. We might make it stick. It's worth trying—I tell you—it's worth trying. Somebody is to blame. He was perfectly well not long ago. I've seen these things before—somebody is to blame."

Propaganda bubbles on incoherently as the mourners turn to Preferred Client who has attracted their attention.

"He's wasted away," said he, "just wasted away. It's a mystery—a strange mystery."

"I'm all goose-flesh," interposes Secret Huddle. "Mysteries and secrets were always my dish, but this thing makes me creepy. Gosh! Maybe it was Goble and the Civic League. I told you fellows to look out for them. I'll bet Goble put some Civic League in his food. Civic League always was poison to him."

"It's done," blurted Boss Banker, shoving him into the center of the group. "Leave it to me and I'll work it out some way."

"No," said Political Highway, "don't waste your time. I feel that I am suffering myself from the same malady. I tell you I feel doomed. I'm a sick man—I feel doomed." He staggered from the room, deathly pale and emaciated.

Singing is heard. The mourners listen. It comes from the park outside, mingled with the laughter of children.

"Ugh! Who could sing at a time like this?" asks Boss Banker. "Don't they know that 'Ring' is dead? See who it is."

Easy Job goes to the window and looks out. He seems frightened. Others go to his side.

"It's John Taxpayer and his family having a picnic in the park," says Favored One.

"The insolence! Order them out—order them out!" shouts Highway Contractor.

"Wait," pleads Soft Appointment. "Others are coming down the road. Hundreds of them. That Taxpayer family always did get my goat. They have been getting too darned independent here lately. There comes Sam and Bill and Joe and Sally and Annie and Mamie—gosh! They've got their friends with them, too. Something must be done—let's run."

A noise is heard outside the door. Old Man Taxpayer and his sons enter the room.

"Get out," he orders sternly. "Get out and get out quick. This is our place and we are going to occupy it. Take the corpse with you as you go."

The mourners scatter, taking the body of "Political Ring" with them.

"Open the windows," commands the old man, "and let some air and sunshine in. We are going to change this politicians' nest into a healthy place to live."

One of the last of the mourners to leave the room is Stupid Employee. The Old Man spies him.

"Why so slow, bumpkin?" he asks.

"I'd like to know why he died," he stammered.

"We stopped feeding him," said the Old Man, smiling. "That's all—we stopped feeding him."

Said the simple one as he passed out the door—"They stopped feeding him—the Taxpayers—no wonder he died."

More songs and laughter come through the window.

That Billion a Week is Not Properly Spread

The San Bernardino Sun

The income of the people of the United States has recently been estimated as a billion dollars a week. That sounds like a good income, but consider—

The billion has to be divided among close to 125,000,000 persons. That makes a per capita income of $8 a week, or $40 for the average family. Many persons, even in these deflated days, are getting more than that, which means that a great many others are receiving proportionately less.

Perhaps one should not analyze such a pleasantly mouth-filling figure as a billion. Analysis makes it look either so pitifully small or so poorly distributed that all satisfaction in it vanishes.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

THE SILVER SPOON

The knight of old need never take
His lady love to the theater
And buy her bad champagne and cake
At some expensive night club later.
He merely twanged his light guitar
Beneath the damsel's window lattice
And possibly her kindly par
Would send a stoup of ale down, gratis.
To wooing he did not devote
The value of a pewter groat.

No spiffy bus the knight of old
Was forced to keep, to please his charmer.
To him the village blacksmith sold
At trifling cost his suit of armor—
A habit that no moth could chew
And very few keen blades could sever.
He kept it shining, bright and new
And it would last almost forever.
And when he felt like being fed
Some cringing peasant gave him bread.

No wonder he was strong and bold
And trailed behind him clouds of glory.
No wonder that the songs of old
Were based upon his fame and glory.
He had no worries, no expense,
No obligations was he under.
And though he had but little sense
The world believed he was a wonder.
And history wrote him down a "wow."
Men never have such clutches now.

Now they say the vitamin in cod liver oil makes you content with yourself. We thought that one was in banana oil. Offering to return the goods doesn't clear a thief. But a witness who lies isn't guilty of perjury if he takes it back when he's cornered.

Some people long to quit their narrow-minded neighborhood and some behave themselves.

THE STRANGEST THING ABOUT THE NEW BATHING SUITS IS THE FACT THAT THEY ARE CALLED SUITS INSTEAD OF HARNESSES.

One way to enjoy national security is never to steal territory from a nation that is big enough to take it back.

The partizan has one advantage. He knows what he will think of a speech without bothering to read it.

The way of republics isn't new. Jonah was thrown overboard because a storm came up.

Suicide has the same faults as the inferiority complex. It hardly ever affects the right people.

CORRECT THIS SENTENCE: "AND I NEARLY DIED OF SHAME," SAID SHE, "WHEN MABEL SAID SHE COULD SEE RIGHT THROUGH ME."

Thoughts On Modern Life

A CHANGING BUSINESS LEADERSHIP

One of the distinct gains that may come from the phase of depression that began in 1929 is a definite decline in the idolatry Americans have brought to the shrine of the business man.

Business has consistently drained off from other callings the nation's ablest genius.

That genius has, however, fallen victim to the temptations unnumbered that swarm in any pioneer period.

And in the pioneer period of the development of our business and industrial system business leadership has been incredibly short-sighted.

This is not because business leadership has been moved by the profit motive.

I take little stock in the mounting tirades of the intellectuals against the profit motive.

It is not the profit motive but the short-sighted following of the profit motive that has given us our major troubles.

On one point I am willing to take the risks of prophecy: The great profits of the future will come only to the business leadership that thinks first of the social function of industry and second of the selfish interest of the industrialist. This will not be a matter of morals. It will be due to the simple fact that industry in a complex mass production era can be profitable only as it serves the welter of human needs with good goods, low prices, high wages, and short hours, as I have insisted over and over again in these articles.

The depression has shown that many of the business idols we have been worshipping have clay feet, and we shall not soon again worship uncritically at their shrine.

It may be said that the old muckraking era failed to destroy American idolatry of the business man.

But the business man of that time was exposed on ethical grounds.

It is no great tribute to us, I admit, but even when it became clear that many business men were indulging in anti-social practices, they remained highly successful men of managerial and promotional genius.

The depression has indicted many business leaders at the point of their ability to think their problems through. They have been revealed as incredibly short-sighted muddlers.

It is this that will strike a blow at the Cult of the Business Man. Copyright, 1932, McClure Newspaper Syn.

"FOR WHOM?"

"Run, along now, Julie, and play your piece right through. Your very best."

"For whom, mother? Who's going to listen to me, mother? Are you coming?"

"I can't. I'm very busy. Go along and play it nicely. When your teacher comes she will be so pleased. That's a good child. Hurry along and do it before it is time for dinner."

"O, I don't want to, mother. If somebody hears me I don't mind but if nobody's going to hear me I don't want to play it."

An audience makes up more than half the fun of working. If a child knows that he is going to play for somebody he wants to play. If nobody is to be thrilled, if there is to be no applause, all the joy of the work is ended. Every musician has to have a listener who can appreciate the good points of the execution and praise where praise is due.

The same thing holds good for all kinds of work required of children. When they are asked to do a task one of the first thoughts that rises in their minds is, "For whom? Who is going to like it? Who is going to praise me for this? Who is going to be glad that I did it so well?" That is quite legitimate. If there were nobody to work for, no work would be done. No work would be necessary.

The need for the work is one of the motives that drive a child to it. His intelligence will not permit him to work hard at a job that starts and ends at the same place, nowhere. He will work hard if he can see his work changing the face of things as it leaves his hands. So long as he feels needed, and it is his work that gives him that feeling, a child will work well and happily.

We forget this when we assign long lessons that we cannot hear recited. We forget this when we assign homework which we cannot correct and return. We forget it too when we tell a child to run along and do something or other because it ought to be done. Duty is an abstract idea and while we must introduce it to childhood we have to make it palatable by supplying an audience. Even a saint would grow weary of doing his duty if he thought there were no angels to carry his praises to the throne of God.

Listen when children tell you a story. Admire their work when they bring it to you. Instead of seeing its faults see its good points. If you can't find any in the misshapen object they present for your admiration at least praise the idea that the creative worker embodies in his task. If he meant it for a box, tell him his box is fine. There will be a better chance for him to make the next one an improvement if you offer praise.

Try to be a good audience. It will help a lot if you are polite and patient and understanding in the presence of the expectant child. The time for constructive criticism will come later, and the child will welcome it. But first establish his good opinion of himself. When he asks "For whom?" he shall do a job. By and by he will extend his audience and spread his usefulness but he has to begin with you.

NOYON IS TAKEN

On Aug. 29, 1918, Allied forces in Picardy continued their victorious drive against the German troops, the French taking Noyon, the British, Bapaume, and the Americans, numerous villages.

The Germans were in full retreat along a front of more than 40 miles as the day ended.

Allied gains during the day's battle were regarded as the most important of any single day of the year. Prisoners captured showed plainly that German morale was breaking under the steady pounding of the Allied forces.

On the Atlantic seaboard, the fishing schooner Gloaming was sunk by a German submarine off the coast of Nova Scotia, and an additional fleet of destroyers was ordered to comb the region for submarines, which had been unusually active.

CAN'T INSULT DOG

"Look here," said one angry fellow to another, "did you say that my mother-in-law had a face like my bull terrier?"

"I did," replied the other. "What about it?"

"Take off your coat," shouted the first. "Nobody's going to say things against that dog and get away with it."—Tit-Bits.

QUITE TRUE

"When I bought this dog you said he was excellent for rats, and he won't touch one."

"Well, isn't that excellent for the rats?"—Der Lustige Sachse.
